Governmental upheaval --reason for drug abuse

By DALE GOWING
Of The Roman Staff

The recent governmental turmoil in Washington, capped by Richard Nixon's resignation as President, has apparently done more than just cause political skepticism. It has also triggered an upsurge in drug abuse.

"People are feeling very alienated and out of it, especially about economics with the current unemployment and inflation rate," said Leonard Melnick, director of the Romulus Help Center. "It's all very depressing to people, and as there's more turmoil and uncertainty in society, there'll be more drug abuse.

"Americans are responding to the political, social and economic upheaval in a very personal way, and that has led to more drug use," he said. "Drugs are here to stay."

MELNICK, 29, and director of the Help Center sponsored by the Romulus Drug and Abuse Council, further explained that today people are finding it extremely difficult to cope with the world situation.

"A chart was made by an expert working at the Western Wayne Counseling Center, a private institute, which showed there was a great rise in 'intakes' (new drug patients) after Nixon resigned," he said. "Their leader was resigning and many people just couldn't handle it anymore, so they went to drugs."

Melnick, who helped organize the private, non-governmental, non-profit Help Center on Goddard Road four years ago, claimed unprescribed drug usage is just as prevalent today as in the peak days of LSD in the late 1960's.

The only difference now, he claimed, is what is being taken and why.

'It's all very depressing...there'll be more drug abuse.'

"THERE IS more and more use of alcohol, which definitely is a drug, because it is cheaper and easier to get," he said. "Seven years ago when the LSD movement began, the emphasis was on consciousness-expanding, or 'turning on.' Today, more and more people want to 'turn off' so their problems don't bother them.

"Kids now use drugs to party with," he continued. "There just isn't the intellectual curiosity today that there was in the 1960's."

Melnick said youngsters are, in effect, playing "Russian roulette" with drugs.

"The tragedy is that kids are willing to take incredible risks," he said. "They are mixing drugs and rarely use them singularly. Young adults today are naive; some of them don't really know about the drug they just took—just how they feel.

"ABOUT 75 per cent of the time we find that the drug a kid took was different than what he thought it was. It's like playing Russian Roulette in a way."

A timely example of Melnick's belief that youths are willing to take risks on the drugs they buy on the streets, occured last week at Milford High School in Oakland County.

Eleven students there were hospitalized after taking overdoses of a potent animal tranquilizer commonly called PCP (phencyclidine), which the students apparently thought was another supposedly less harmful drug.

Because of the trend in combining different drugs, the Help Center has channeled its drug counselintg in that direction. Melnick said the center deals with "poly-drug abuse", for example, mixing marijuana, alcohol and tranquilizers.

DESPITE THE seemingly sophisticated manner of some users in combining drugs, Melnick said they nonetheless aren't too choosy in what they consume.

"Kids will use what they can get because that's what they have access to," he said, adding that the most prevalent substances in Romulus are alcohol and marijuana, followed by PCP.

The Help Center, funded 85 per cent federally and 15 per cent by the city, provides drug, job and family counseling to residents of Romulus, Huron Township, Belleville, Van Buren and Sumpter townships. Its patients average inage from 20-25, Melnick said, but are as young as 12 and as old as 57.

West aims to unseat Owen in race

State House 22nd District post at stake

A former leader of the Ypsilanti Township Republican Committee will challenge the 2-year Democratic incumbent in the Michigan House of Representatives 22nd District.

Twenty-three-year-old Lee West of Ypsilanti will attempt to unseat State Rep. Gary Owen, 30, in the district which includes Van Buren Township, Belleville and a portion of Romulus.

West, a graduate of Eastern Michigan University, is an advertising executive, while Owen boasts two years of state service after serving on the Ypsilanti Township board for two years prior to his election.

OWEN SAID HE favors establishing "reasonable timetables" to rule out the possibility of a teacher strike delaying the opening of school.

"But as long as school financing depends on the outmoded property tax, there will be problems, particularly in a time like we have today where inflation outruns the economic expansion of districts," he added.

Owen said he sees a solution to teacher strikes if the state takes over financing districts with systems allowed to levy millage for "enrichment" programs.

West said he hates to see "the classroom placed in a factory atmosphere" by a teacher strike.

"THE WHOLE LABOR-management motif may not be applicable in schools," he added. "But then, the employes' ultimate power is the right to strike for fair wages.

"I think the teacher strike problem could be overcome with a total system of accountability, where the teacher is accountable to the student and his parents, the student is accountable to the teachers and the parents are accountable to the teachers."

West sees a big problem in government "in public apathy of the voters due to an unresponsive government."

"Citizens have to be convinced that responsible elected officials must be placed in office, so they can learn that government serves them, and isn't designed to be served by them," West explained.

HE ADDED THAT he agrees with giving citizens an "alternative" on the sales tax for food and drugs, but does not back repeal of the food tax "because the income tax which will be necessary to make up revenues will be more for the families than the sales tax."

Owen said the people of his district "deserve more state input," such as the state intervention in the Wayne County Road Commission take-over of the Willow Run Airport and the improvement of Belleville and Ford lakes by the State Department of Natural Resources.

"We must develop this area for recreation," he said. "The people deserve more opportunity to enjoy their environment."

Vandalize inside

Gremlins raid haunted house

The results of weeks of hard work by the Romulus Jaycees on their "haunted house" were scarred slightly Monday, but Jaycee officials are "thankful."

Sometime between early Monday morning and mid-afternoon vandals broke into the locked house at Howe and Van Born roads, stole several masks and destroyed one of the exhibit rooms.

Jaycee President Phil McNett said the organization did not know the monetary extent of the damage, but was thankful that the vandals took only a few of the horror masks used in the exhibits. He said at least one valuable mask was not taken.

McNett also said the expensive sound effects equipment used in the house was safe, since it is taken home each night by Jaycee members.

The haunted house, which opened Sunday and will be open to visitors daily from 5 to 9 p.m. through Thursday, for a 50-cent charge, will be protected by beefed-up patrols until it closes.

McNett said proceeds from visitors to the house Sunday totaled $200.

Candidates for 38th District voice views of teacher strikes

A veteran of both state and local politics will be opposed by a man with local political background in the 38th State Representative District of Michigan.

Edward E. Mahalak, a veteran of 10 years in the State Legislature, and 10 more years as justice of the peace in Romulus, will run against Elbert Ray, a veteran of the Sumpter Township Board of Trustees for the district seat.

Mahalak, 52, a Democrat, lives in Romulus with his wife, Delphine. He has two children.

RAY, 62, of Sumpter Township, is a former township treasurer and member of the township board of review. He lives with his wife, Lillian. The couple has five children.

Both candidates were asked to give their opinion on teacher strikes in their district, which includes the western part of Wayne along with Romulus and Huron and Sumpter townships.

Mahalak said: "I have no ideas on teacher strikes at this point, but have been trying to do something to alleviate the situation.

"In the past, the problem was knowing what the funding would be for local school districts, but last year, the legislature passed a funding proposal for three years giving minimum amounts to negotiate with.

"THE COURTS have the power to resolve the issue and should."

Ray said: "I haven't made up my mind over the situation, but do know that I hate to see strikes.

"Some thought has to be put into stopping strikes, and I think contracts should be settled without them."

Ray added that his big concern is gaining a tax break for senior citizens.

"SOMETHING HAS to be done to ease their burden," he said. "Without a continuing income, taxes hurt."

He is basing his campaign on a broader issue of "good government for all the people."

Mahalak said his concern is unemployment and inflation.

He explained that unemployment can be eased by eliminating the tax on food and drugs and keeping taxes down.

He added that passage of two state bond issues for mass transit and the Vietnam Veterans bonus will aid the economy, although they will increase taxes to pay off bonds.

Students in the Romulus Community School District have raised more than $2,800 in contributions to the upcoming Romulus Jaycees Christmas Party for the city's underprivileged children. See story on Page A-20.

Township board eyes law enforcement study

A study of the feasibility of developing a complete and comprehensive law enforcement program for Wayne County has been taken under review by Van Buren Township officials.

The Public Safety and Judiciary Sub-Committee of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners has undertaken the study regarding road patrol service.

The Van Buren Township Board of Trustees at its recent meeting was asked by the subcommittee for comments and recommendations on the proposed comprehensive law enforcement program.

Township officials deferred any official recommendations pending further study and receipt of recommendations from the township's police department.

Basically, according to a committee spokesman, the program coordinates the various law enforcement agencies in several political subdivisions of the county to ensure the availability of police personnel to the citizenry with a minimum of time-lag between a call to the police and the presence of an officer at the scene of the emergency or crime.

Essential to the program is the tie-in of police agencies to a central "911" emergency number, whereby an individual need only dial the number regardless of location in the county and be assured that the nearest available police officer, vehicle and equipment will be immediately dispatched, the spokesman explained.

The central dispatch services provided in the program would minimize, if not eliminate, the confusion experienced by citizens seeking police assistance when unaware of the agency having jurisdiction.

Sumpter hearing concerns zoning

A public hearing of a proposed amendment to the township zoning ordinance will be held at 7:30 p.m. before the Sumpter Township Planning Commission on Nov. 27.

The propsed amendment involves the rezoning of a more than 10-acre parcel of land located on the north side of Willis Road approximately 2,100 feet east of Rawsonville Road from its present zoning of single-family to general business classification.

The zoning change is being sought to permit the operation of a proposed flea market.

In other township business, the township board of trustees approved the adoption of a zoning ordinance amendment that changes the zoning of 10,925 acres of land located at the southeast corner of Sumpter and Willis Roads.

The land parcel was zoned to commercial from a rural country homes and family residential classification.

'64 class to meet at reunion

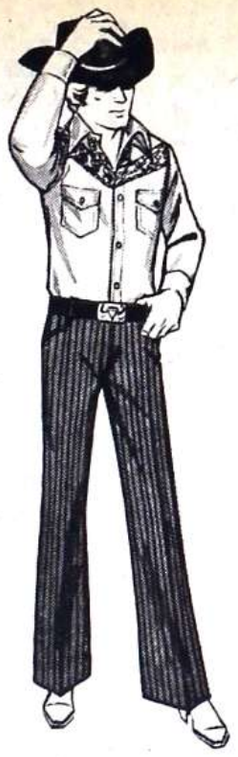

Final plans currently are being made for the 10th reunion of the 1964 Belleville High School graduating class.

The event will be held on Nov. 30 at the Father Folta Building located behind St. Anthony's Catholic Church on W. Columbia Ave., Belleville.

A buffet supper will be served and entertainment will be provided. The evening's program begins at 8:30 p.m. The deadline for returning RSVP forms and checks is Nov. 1.

2 attorneys vie for new judicial seat

Two Belleville area attorneys are competing in the Nov. 5 general election for the judgeship in the 34th District Court, headquartered in the City of Romulus.

Vying for the position are attorneys Fred H. Hogan of 6111 Rawsonville Rd., Ypsilanti, who has offices in Belleville; and Henry Zaborowski of 40454 Alden Dr., Belleville.

Both attorneys were nominated for the nonpartisan post in the August primary election.

THE NEW JUDGESHIP for the court was provided for under provisions of Public Acts 145 signed by Gov. William G. Milliken this year. It provides for the election of additional judges in three district courts in the state, including the 34th district court.

The new judge will join the court's present Judge James B. Stone, who has four more years to serve of his 6-year term.

Hogan has been a Belleville area resident for the last 23 years. He also has been practicing law for that same time period. He has served as a Belleville city councilman, Sumpter Township attorney and Justice of the Peace for Van Buren Township.

Zaborowski, a resident of the district for 34 years has been practicing law for 11 years. He presently is Sumpter Township attorney, Romulus School board attorney and has served both as a prosecutor and defense attorney.

HE IS MAKING his second bid for the court post. He was defeated by Judge Stone in the 1972 election. He led three candidates, including Hogan, in the August primary election.

Zaborowski said his strong legal educational and service background ensures a positive future. His opponent is placing emphasis on his many years of legal experience and qualifications.

The former candidate is offering a platform of strong and complete law enforcement to protect residents with justice for those who appear before the court; the establishment of an effective probation program to rehabilitate deserving offenders especially youthful offenders with drug problems and the establishment of a "much needed night court in Sumpter Township.

He added that case workers will be recruited in a new program to be set up with related departments at University of Michigan and Eastern Michigan University to work in the probation program with the court.

STUDENTS IN THE fields of sociology and psychology would work with youthful offenders as volunteer probation officers.

Hogan said his 23 years of legal practice as well as six years as a justice of the peace for Van Buren Township and Belleville qualify him for the court post.

He argued that the justice of the peace courts which were abolished in 1968 when the district court system was established "basically are similar," in the type of work done at the present district courts.

As to his opponent's night court proposal, Hogan said such a court would use up the time of judge who is needed to help ease the burden of the case load during the day.

Hogan said Judge Stone already has established a complete and functioning volunteer probation program of 32 trained volunteer officers who actively supervised probationers.

Drug abuse rise linked to national depression

The center, which uses no drugs in its drug abuse counseling, became officially licensed by the state on Oct. 1. It was one of 67 programs in the state's 417 which received the top licensing, called the standard renewable license. The other programs received 6-month provisional licenses or 90-day temporary permits, Melnick said.

MELNICK and Romulus school officials say they tend to believe that drug abuse among the city's school children perhaps isn't as serious as elsewhere, but concede that drugs are in the city.

"Saying they're not is sticking your head in the sand," Melnick claimed. "But at the same time, saying there is an imminent crisis is being hysterical."

He noted that an area high school girl was treated for a PCP overdose last week.

Romulus High School Principal Joel Carr said he feels the drug problem in that school is perhaps not quite as serious as the county average, but admitted the school's strict drug abuse policy might be driving the drugs "underground."

IF A STUDENT is apprehended for the use, sale or possession of "any controlled substance" — including alcohol, marijuana and other drugs—in transit to or from school, an investigation is launched followed by his possible suspension.

The case then goes before the board of education for a hearing "to determine the student's fate," Carr said.

"Our policy is probably one of the staunchest in the state," he explained. "Many schools just suspend the student for a few days. But we want to make it clear that we will not tolerate this."

Carr said the strict policy either "prevents some kids from using drugs or drives it further underground."

"IT MIGHT be like an iceberg, where you only see it on the surface, but I like to feel we have a pretty fair idea of what's going on here. Don't get me wrong, we do have drugs in the school, especially used in the bathrooms," he emphasized.

Carr, in his fourth year as Romulus principal, said figures show that drug abuse in the school is more prevalent among ninth and tenth graders.

"Those are the youngest students in the high school and they do it to prove their manliness and to prove they're growing up," he said. "Naive? Sure. They have no idea what they're taking most of the time."

Newcomer challenges Faust in 13th District

A newcomer to politics will attempt to unseat an 8-year veteran of the Michigan Legislature in the 13th State Senate District race.

James D. Walaskay, 30, of 44153 S. Umberland Ct., Canton Township, has challenged Democrat William Faust, 45, of 8228 Ravine Dr., Westland, for a 4-year term in the 13th district.

Both candidates are attempting to represent an area which includes Garden City; Westland; Romulus, Belleville, Van Buren, Huron, Canton and Sumpter townships, and a portion of Taylor.

WALASKAY IS married and has three children. He is attending Wayne State University.

Faust, a former township supervisor in Westland, has earned a bachelor's degree from the University of Michigan and is working on his master's degree at Eastern Michigan University.

Both candidates favor some form of state regulation for teachers who are negotiating with their school districts to cut down on teacher strikes.

Faust is favoring a strict timetable for school negotiations with binding arbitration being mandatory for teachers, if the timetable isn't met.

WALASKAY SAID there may be a need for outside arbitration in settling teacher disputes, but adds that teachers should be more accountable for their work to parents and administrators alike.

"Maybe someone higher than teachers or school districts should be called in to help settle negotiations," he explained, adding that he did not disagree with teachers' right to strike. "if they receive an inequitable offer."

Walaskay said he favors the bond issue for mass transit on the Nov. 6 ballot, but adds "more should be done to include the Canton-Van Buren area in the plans.

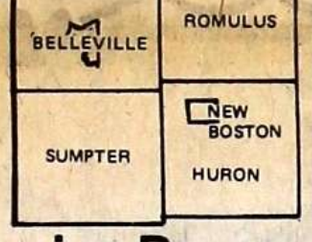

"By 1990 this area of the county will be booming," he added.

FAUST AGREES WITH need for transit, but added: "It will mean more than providing transportation. It means jobs for area residents and an opportunity for lower-income persons to seek jobs in places other than their immediate area."

Both candidates say they favor land use legislation to help guide communities in their planning.

Faust said the legislation "should be for those communities which do not have a development plan.

Harris seeks to keep post

Wayne County Commissioner Edgar L. Harris wants to see the full development of the Industrial Commercial Development Council he has begun in the county, which has prompted him to seek to retain his 26th District seat.

Harris, 50, a Taylor democrat, will oppose Republican Lorraine J. Vandette, also of Taylor, in Tuesday's election.

The battle to promote new businesses in the county and his desire to have a branch of the county's circuit court located in Western Wayne County are Harris' key objectives in his bid for election. The voting race is the first for Harris, since he was appointed to the commission to fill a vacancy last spring.

"I started the establishment of the Industrial Commercial Development Council to promote industry and commercial growth in the county, because there are a number of businesses moving out of the county," Harris said. "I want to continue to battle for good government and continue to give good service."

Harris defeated Democratic challengers Mitchell Moran and Richard J. Trolley in the August primary.

Mrs. Vandette, who lives on Chernick in Taylor, ran unopposed for the Republican nod in the August primary. This is her first bid for public office.

Here's the rundown

Statewide ed races confusing

By BOB BERG
Enterprise-Roman Lansing Bureau Chief

On the Michigan political map, the race for statewide education posts is the closest equivalent to the Sahara Desert.

Candidates for the state board of education and the governing boards of Michigan State, Michigan and Wayne State exist in a faceless state of near total anonymity. Once on the ballot, their fate is determined by the shifting political sands which blow around them.

In a Democratic year, Democratic candidates win. In a Republican year, Republican candidates win. It's been that way every election year and there is no sign this year will change.

IN THEORY, the idea of having the persons governing education in the state elected by the people is fine. It's just a bigger version of the local school board election.

But in practice, it becomes a hopelessly confusing mess as voters just don't have the time or inclination to figure out who each candidate is. In practice it isn't anything at all like the local school board election and never will be.

Here is a brief rundown on the major party candidates for each of the four education boards. Two will be elected to each board.

MICHIGAN STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION

— James F. O'Neil, 50, a Republican incumbent from Livonia who is running for his second term. O'Neil is an executive with Ford Motor Co. who wants to see free college tuition for all students.

— Barbara Roberts, 32, a Democrat from Lansing who is a teacher. She is executive director of a group of nine education associations in Lansing and wants to see establishment of a statewide preschool education program for the handicapped, more career education in schools and a system for accountability in education.

— Florence F. Saltzman, 52, a Republican from Franklin wants to see the board improve its relationship with the legislature and wants more guarantee of local control of schools.

—Rogert Tilles, 28, a Democrat from Swartz Creek who is an attorney and former employe of the Michigan Education Department. Tilles opposes the idea of a statewide system of accountability, saying it would stifle creativity.

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY BOARD OF TRUSTEES

— John B. Bruff, 45, a lawyer and Democrat from Fraser who would like to see the tuition burden on students eased, starting by charging no tuition for the first two years. Bruff previously was best known as Zolton Ferency's running mate in 1966 when Ferency was the Democratic nominee for governor.

— Raymond W. Krolikowski, 46, a lawyer from Birmingham who is a Democrat and agrees that tuitions should be lowered.

—Frank Merriman, 54, a Republican from Deckerville who is running for reelection. Merriman is a dairy farmer who would like to see the university take an expanded role in agricultural research, instruction and in its agricultural extension programs.

— Kenneth W. Thompson, 66, a Republican from East Lansing who is a retired executive of Michigan Bell.

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN BOARD OF REGENTS

—Dona Scott Parker, 30, a Republican attorney from Howell who feels students are paying enough tuition and any further income increases should come from other sources.

—Sarah Power, 39, a Democrat from Ann Arbor who is on leave from being assistant chairwoman of the U-M's Commission for Women.

— Thomas Roach, 45, a Democrat from Grosse Pointe Park who is an attorney. Roach wants to see the university reduce costs, obtain more governmental, alumni and industrial financing and expand loan programs.

— David F. Upton, 52, a Republican from St. Joseph is president of an abstract and title company. Upton wants to work to build support for the university financially and philosophically to help it through a time of rising costs and reducing enrollments.

WAYNE STATE UNIVERSITY BOARD OF GOVERNORS

—Michael Einheuser, 23, is a Detroit Democrat who is an administrator for the Detroit Transit Alternative. Wants to see Wayne State treated as an equal to MSU and the U-M by the legislature.

— Mildred Jeffrey, 62, a Democrat from Detroit who is a veteran United Auto Workers Union official. She wants to assure adequate state funding for the university and to enlarge private donations.

— Norman Stockmeyer, 67, a Republican appraiser from Westland, is an incumbent on the board. Stockmeyer would like state to issue bonds to fund low cost student loans and wants Wayne to keep students fees at a low level so many can afford them.

— Frank B. Walker, 43, a physician from Grosse Pointe Park running on the Republican ticket. Walker wants the university to look harder at the private sector for financing to take some of the pressure off tuition fees and state and federal funding.

As we see it

Voters must reject C

The third proposition to be decided by Michigan voters in November — whether to repeal the state's sales tax on food and drugs — has developed into the biggest issue separating the two major party gubernatorial candidates.

Proposition C is the only issue to reach this fall's ballot through the petition process. It was put there by 300,000 signatures gathered by the Michigan Citizen's Lobby, a consumers group which has proven the most effective in moving and shaking government.

The idea of repealing the tax on food and drugs first surfaced over a year ago in the Democratic legislative ranks. It was pushed for a while by Rep. Bobby Crim (D-Davison), as part of his abortive attempt at his party's gubernatorial nomination.

THE IDEA fell flat, however, as legislators looked at the budget for the coming fiscal year and saw there was no way they could repeal the $200 million a year the tax on food and drugs brings in and still balance the budget. The idea of an offsetting tax increase in an election year was politically undigestible.

Then in January, Gov. William G. Milliken picked up an idea originally put forth by Republican legislators to blunt Crim's proposal — a series of income tax credits for lower income families designed to, in effect, pay them back the sales tax they paid on food and drugs.

The Milliken proposal cost $35 million, compared to the $200 million for total repeal, and was compatible — barely — with budget plans. It passed the legislature overwhelmingly.

But the Michigan Citizen's Lobby wasn't satisfied and pushed ahead with its petition drive to repeal the four cents per dollar tax on food purchased in a grocery store and the two cents per dollar on prescription drugs.

And vote Kavanagh

Michigan has had one court of justice for the past decade, a concept commanded by the 1963 state constitution which is more easily stated than it is to put into practice. For whatever high ideal is approached, it still must be implemented by man.

Much of the credit for fashioning the ideal into reality must be accorded Chief Justice Thomas M. Kavanagh and his leadership.

Kavanagh, as chief justice, has been the spokesman for the court and administrator. During his time, the court has changed from a group of shrill prima donnas to a bench known for its dignity and reason.

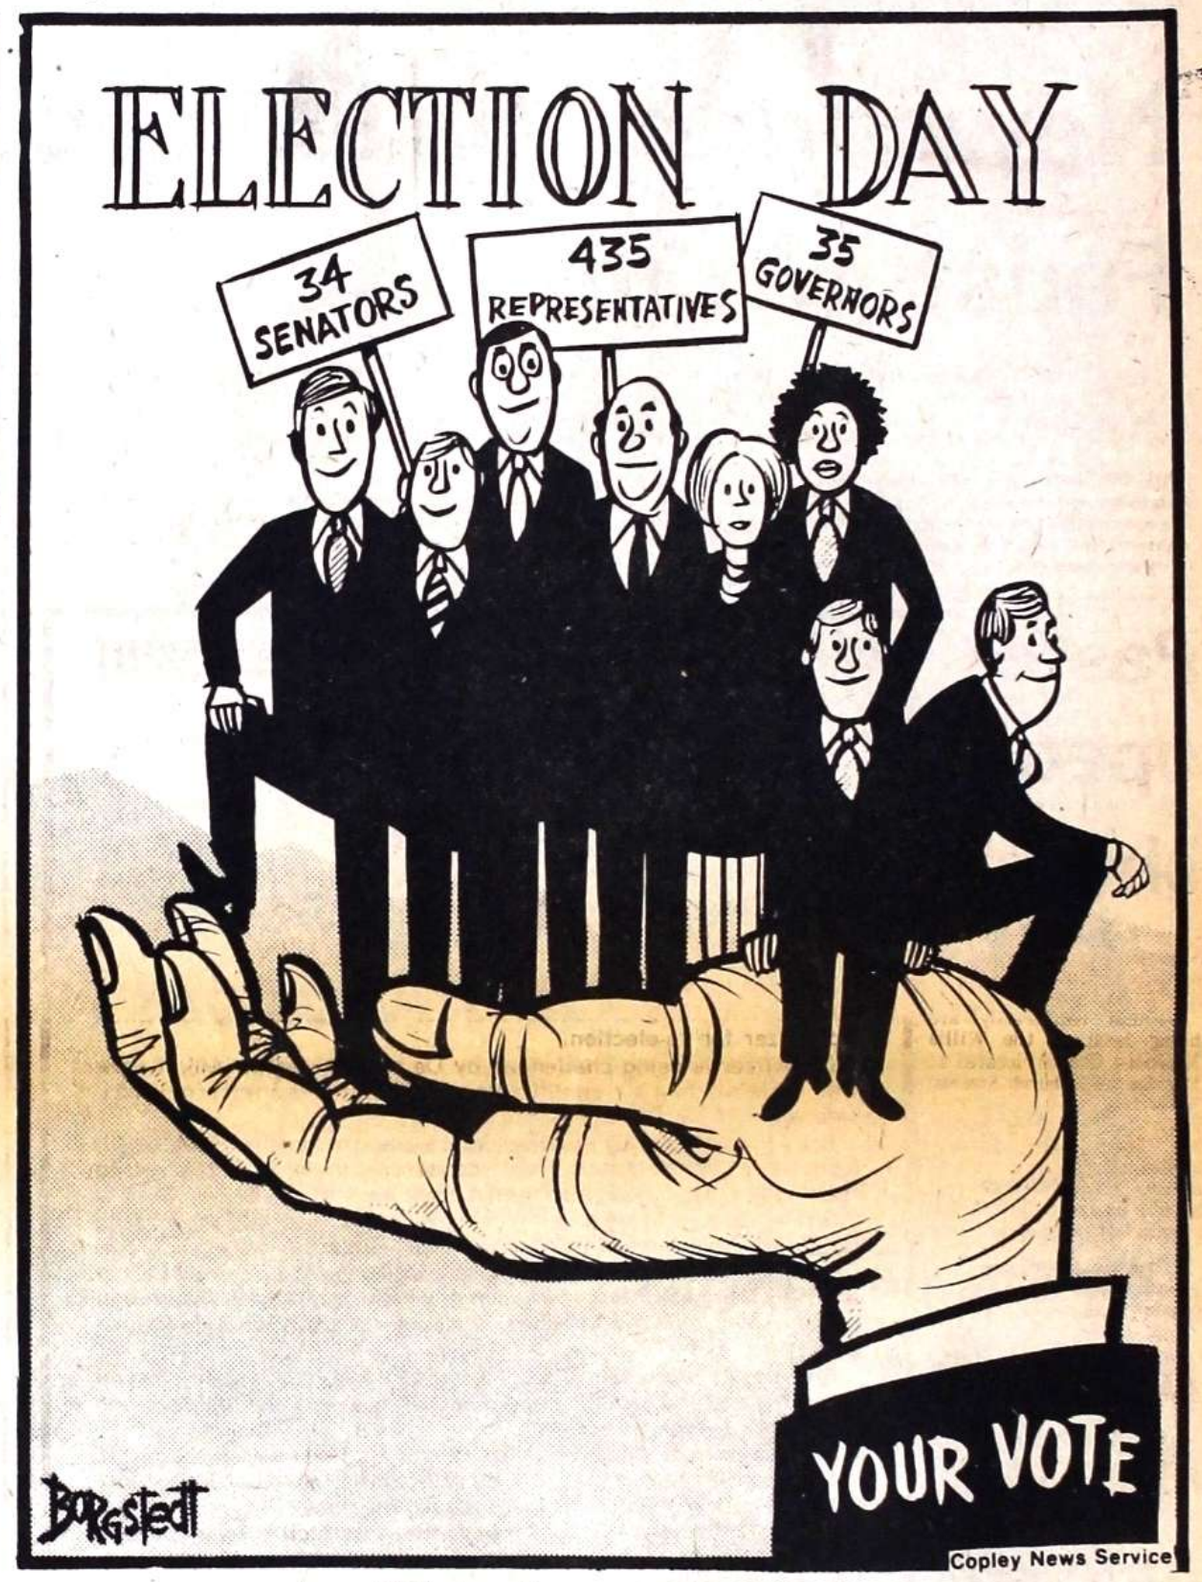

Kavanagh's latest attempt to improve the judiciary is a proposal for the state to finance the entire court system, relieving the counties and cities of a financial burden but, more importantly, removing from the system of justice a potentially untoward pressure.

Kavanagh, who served two years as state attorney general before his elevation to the court in 1957, is seeking re-election this Nov. 5 and Panax Newspapers endorse his candidacy.

The second Supreme Court position open this year is occupied by Justice John W. Fitzgerald, a former local judge, who served as a leader in the State Senate and became a distinguished member of the State Court of Appeals.

Panax Newspapers endorse Fitzgerald for a full 8-year term on the Supreme Court.

We are impressed with the qualifications of Circuit Judge Blair Moody Jr., of Wayne County, and Circuit Judge Allan C. Miller, of East Tawas, nominated by the Democratic and Republican parties respectively. However, we feel that Kavanagh and Fitzgerald should be given the opportunity to continue their service.

"We're in your hands--"

Milliken against Levin

Gubernatorial race is rerun of 4 years ago

The easy thing to say about this year's gubernatorial contest in Michigan is that it's a rerun of four years ago.

That's true to a certain extent. After all, the two main contestants again are incumbent Republican Gov. William G. Milliken and Democratic challenger Sander M. Levin.

But once you get past that, the similarities are few. Four years have passed since Milliken edged Levin by 44,000 votes and the issues have changed considerably.

FOR INSTANCE:

— four years ago Levin contended Michigan was on the brink of financial ruin. This year he contends the state can cut its income by $200 million per year and still balance the budget without any compensatory increase in another tax.

— four years ago Milliken was campaigning as a 2-year incumbent who inherited the office from George Romney. He said he had begun a job he wanted to continue. Now he says he has done a good job and offers voters a record of "performance, not promises."

'— four years ago the election came during a General Motors strike that shook the state at its financial roots. There is no strike this year.

— four years ago Richard Nixon was President and Milliken kept both him and Vice-President Spiro Agnew as far away from Michigan as he could. This year he had President Gerald Ford make a special trip to Michigan to speak at a fund raiser and he has been very open in praising vice-president designate Nelson Rockefeller.

— four years ago the Democratic ticket was led by Sen. Philip Hart, who buried his Republican opponent Lenore Romney in a 900,000 vote landslide. This year the gubernatorial candidates are at the top of the ticket.

— four years ago Levin conducted a somewhat standard moderate to liberal Democratic campaign, but this year he has been sounding like a conservative Republican, talking about waste and "fat" in governmental budgets and calling for crackdowns on welfare abuses.

—four years ago the issue of amnesty for draft dodgers and deserters wracked the Democratic Party and its statewide candidates disavowed an amnesty resolution which slipped through the state convention. Now an amnesty plan is in effect under the auspices of a Republican President and Levin said he supports it.

— four years ago the issue of parochiaid was perhaps the crucial issue and busing for racial balance was something done in the south. Now parochiaid is a dead issue and the Supreme Court has struck down a cross district busing order for the Detroit suburbs.

SO, WHILE the names may be the same, few other things are.

Milliken four years ago was expected by many to serve out his term and retire. He hadn't actually told anyone that's what he'd do, but that was the impression many had. But he made it clear after about a year that he actively was considering yet another term and as the calendar moved closer to election year it became obvious what he would do. He already has said if he wins this will be his last term, that 10 years would be enough.

Levin severely was disappointed four years ago when he came so close to winning and his sights have been on a rematch ever since. He toyed with the idea of a Congressional candidacy in 1972 and headed Maine Sen. Edmund Muskie's ill-fated presidential campaign while it existed. But always there was the frustration of a near win and the desire for a rematch.

In fact, aides to both candidates say they privately relished the idea of bumping into each other again and that both have developed some personal distaste of varying intensity for the other. That is understandable. When two people engage in what has been a 5-year long competition, it's awfully hard to keep it on a purely intellectual basis.

MILLIKEN HAD no campaign opposition this time around while Levin had to knock off former Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanaugh. Cavanaugh's campaign was badly wounded by an enforced two months break for a cancer operation and it never recovered. Levin beat him by a 2-1 margin.

There actually are seven other minor party gubernatorial candidates this year, but only one is viewed as a credible vote getter of any proportion. He is Zolton Ferency, one of the original anti-Vietnam critics who lost his Democratic Party chairmanship because of his opposition to the war.

Ferency has formed his own party, the Human Rights Party, and it has shown strength in several areas, particularly the campus communities of Ann Arbor and East Lansing. Some Democrats fear, and Republicans hope, Ferency can pull votes in these areas because it's expected those votes would be deducted from Levin's column, not Milliken's.

As they see it

Election warning

To The Editor: Well, here we are approaching another general election, Nov. 5th!

As a comparative old timer, I notice they come closer together now. I also notice a lot of new people in our area who have not been through one of our elections.

I consider it only fair to warn them that we have a long record of "last minute blitz tactics" in our politics. This is the only way to present "untruths" to the voter so he won't have a chance to check on their validity.

Such tactics were used to prevent our getting the beautiful lake and park for a spell, but we persisted until we did get it, a distinct benefit to our entire community.

I deplore such methods in any type of elections for they prevent the voters from getting all the facts on which to base good judgement so vitally needed at this point in time.

So take this "tip" from one who has observed many elections — be wary of last minute "blitz tactics" in any election!

Sales tax--an issue

Voters to decide its fate

Politicians have been handed an explosive plaything in the proposition to repeal the four per cent sales tax on food and drugs. It is an invitation to the rawest kind of demogogy, a textbook case of buying votes now and paying off with financial disaster next year.

Proposition C was placed on the Nov. 5 ballot by the Michigan Citizens Lobby, a formidable reform organization with good instincts and a mover and shaker of inspiring merit.

But there is no mechanism or promise to replace the $80 million repeal will cost the first year and $200 million in succeeding years at a time when budget anaylsts are forecasting a $600 million deficit for 1975.

Even before the sales tax repeal got on the ballot, responsible people were anticipating that an increase would be needed in the state income tax.

With inflation, labor costs and other factors, they're talking about a $3 billion state general fund budget including the repealed portion of the sales tax, and an increase from 3.9 per cent to 4.4 per cent increase in the income tax.

Gov. William G. Milliken opposes repeal for reasons of fiscal responsibility. Democrat Sander M. Levin favors it, stating that it and all other financial problems can be solved by reducing other state spending. Cutting state spending by one-third is a pipe dream, an idea useful only in a political campaign to attract votes from desperate people.

The idea isn't new. It first saw light in the 1950s when former Gov. G. Mennen Williams' Democrats were ever-conscious of the plight of low income families and the elderly on fixed incomes. It also was before the state income tax.

Democratic leaders in the legislature generally favor repeal, but part company with Levin on the rationale that the loss can be covered by cutting state spending.

The biggest chunk of state money goes to the Big Three, education, mental health and welfare, all areas that legislators find impossible to reduce.

Proposition C is the right idea at the wrong time for Michigan and voters should reject it as a matter of responsibility.

On WCCC board

Candidates air plans for college trustee post

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of The Eagle Staff

Only three of the four candidates seeking a spot on the Wayne County Community College (WCCC) Board of Trustees were represented at last night's "Meet the Candidates Night" at John Glenn High School in Westlanand.

More than 100 area residents, most of them WCCC students, turned out to hear candidates Garth Christie and James McCartney and a representative for Ann Perez speak on the issues confronting them in their race for the District Seven trustee seat for the college.

District Seven includes most of Westland, Wayne, Inkster, a portion of Canton, Van Buren, Sumpter and Huron townships and Romulus.

CHRISTIE, a 20-year-old urban education student at the University of Michigan-Dearborn campus, said his main concern in his campaign is improving facilities, curriculum and community relations for the college.

McCartney, director of the Plymouth-Canton Economic Development Commission, said his main concern was to improve counseling, improve library facilities and develop a core center in the District Seven region.

Dorothy Furie, speaking for Miss Perez, whose brother died recently, said the candidate is concerned with student needs at WCCC.

Missing was candidate David McDonald.

CHRISTIE SAID WCCC "has to improve both facilities and course offerings" for the students and cited a need for more vocational education training the college's curriculum.

He added that "the word has to get out on the college" to help boost student enrollment.

McCartney said: "I've been involved since the concept of WCCC was first proposed and see a need for more funding, particularly at the federal level."

He added that his experience, as a former Wayne County Board of Commissioners member would enable him to lobby for funding in both state and federal government.

As part of his campaign, McCartney promised those who attended the meeting that he would seek more input from the citizens of the area to help guide him in his decisions concerning the college.

HE INDICATED that the college's citizens advisory committee "needs to broaden its activities" to sample public opinion.

Christie said that as a trustee he would seek more imput from the citizens of the area "by being available."

"I will go out and talk to people to find where my duty lies as a trustee," he added.

Christie suggested that the college could work with local school districts, possibly by pooling resources, to build facilities area students will need for vocational education.

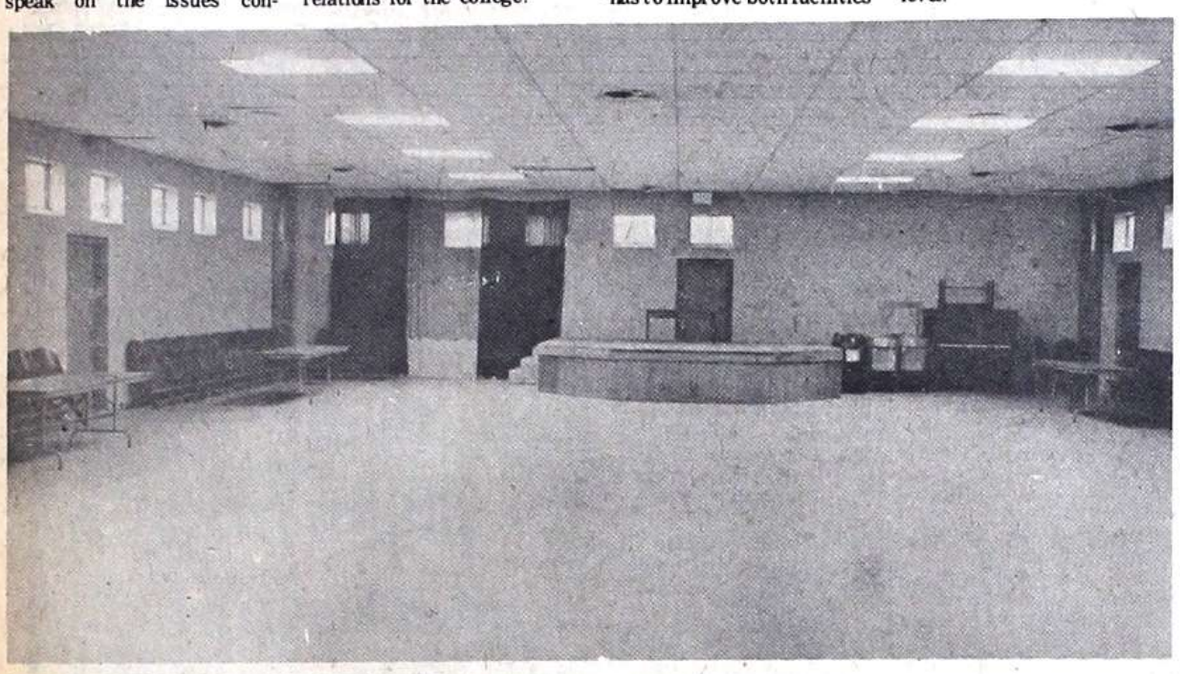

"Funds should be offered as an inducement to help provide facilities," he said.

McCartney said that while he is concerned with improving facilities: "I'm concerned that all the money will go to capital improvements when some should go to quality education.

"We should have facilities, but should have quality education first."

McDonald, 28, of 15620 Anthony, Romulus, is a member of the Community Relations Commission of the City of Romulus and is running for the District 7 seat in Tuesday's general election.

McDonald has indicated he believes education "must insure that its progress and activities are so structured as to provide quality of educational opportunity for all and to insure that there is no institutionalized opposition to any group."

WIDE OPEN SPACES—Although the spacious floor is devoid of dancers and the stage holds neither actor nor musician, the newly-acquired Romulus recreation building at 11495 Wahrman will surely be bustling with a wide variety of activity very soon. The city agreed to assume the mortgage of the building when it was offered by the members of the Romulus Civic League earlier this month. Romulus officials said they anticipate using the building as a meeting place for senior citizens and a general recreation facility.—The Enterprise-Roman photo.

WHAT THE YPSILANTI PRESS SAID ABOUT THE GOLLWITZER ACTION TEAM!

In Van Buren
Gollwitzer

The election for Van Buren Township supervisor is going to be a spirited and hotly contested one, but we're endorsing G. Elton Gollwitzer for re-election.

Gollwitzer is being challenged by Democrat Martin (Mike) Birk who certainly has his qualifications and deserves the careful consideration of Van Buren voters.

We must endorse Gollwitzer for re-election on the basis of his administrative efficiency and because the issues Birk has raised seem to be more pseudo issues than anything else.

Gollwitzer during his four years in office has restored real order to the township's administrative offices. Record-keeping has improved, contracts are effectively studied by legal experts, and the township has effectively stood up for its rights in the traditional battle between Wayne County and the townships in Western Wayne County.

Gollwitzer has become a real leader among western Wayne County townships, and thus he's performing a very valuable service to the township.

We respect very much Gollwitzer's opinion that every so often the township board has to put certain proposals on the ballot just to test the pulse of the community. We respect his view that the proposal for .42 mills for weekly rubbish pickup is an effective way to see if the majority of the community sees weekly rubbish pickups as a township priority.

We're especially impressed with Gollwitzer's suggestion that soon the township should ask the voters to vote on the possibility of consolidating the township with the city of Belleville. "We're not pushing consolidation, it's just that the voters haven't been able to express their opinions on that issue for four or five years and it's time we heard from them again," Gollwitzer said.

We like that kind of thinking very much and are convinced Van Buren Township needs a supervisor as active as Gollwitzer has been. Just like some people in the township we've disagreed with some of Gollwitzer's views and even some of his methods, but Gollwitzer is the decent kind of man who can give the township the kind of professional administration it deserves.

Birk is talented, hard-working and extremely sincere, but things these days are far different than when he ran the township in the early '60s.

We don't believe his major issues like rubbish pickup without additional millage and frivolous spending of recreation money hold a lot of water.

The township certainly would not fall to the wave of destruction if Birk were elected, but we believe Gollwitzer is the best qualified man for the job.

Mrs. Patricia Cullin is our choice for Van Buren Township clerk over Democrat Doreen Craven.

Mrs. Cullin has been an effective member of the Gollwitzer Republican team and has introduced many business-like practices to Van Buren Township. With the township's growth rate as rapid as it is, efficient township administration is an absolute must, and we're satisfied Mrs. Cullin is supplying that.

Mrs. Craven contends Mrs. Cullin has not been available enough as township clerk, yet we cannot see where the township has suffered. Rather, record keeping and township services appear more efficient than ever.

Though not ready for this press deadline, it was learned, through reliable sources, that Kenneth Barks, candidate for treasurer will also be favorably endorsed by the Ypsilanti Press.

Stephen Kuchta is a certain choice for one seat. He is knowledgeable, concerned and aggressive. He was appointed to the board two years ago and has proven an effective participant. He is a good team player and believes strongly that to meet its potential the township must logically control its growth through extensive planning.

Dominic (Don) Blend has also given four valuable years of service to the township and has turned in a valuable performance as the township police commissioner. We certainly believe Blend would continue to do an excellent job for the township.

The experience, talent and dedication of the GOLLWITZER ACTION TEAM has been well recognized by the knowledgeable YPSILANTI PRESS.

Showers mark area calendars

By Lee Smith
Suburban Living Editor

Two aunts of bride-to-be Cindy Williams of New Boston entertained at a bridal shower in her honor Sunday afternoon, Oct. 20. Marjorie Jones of Trenton and Esther Lacey of Dearborn planned the miscellaneous event held at the latter's home.

Some 42 relatives and friends drove from Livonia, Wyandotte, Southfield, Monroe, Garden City, Romulus, Belleville and New Boston for an afternoon of games planned by the honoree's cousin, Mari Lacey. The door prize was awarded to Cindy's grandmother, Mrs. Harry Jason, who had come from Lexington, Ky. just for the special occasion.

A buffet supper with an Italian theme was followed by the gift session where Cindy was assisted by three of her future attendants, Donna Martin of Ann Arbor, Linda Grey of Adrian and Janice Zakorski of Livonia, all former roommates from Central Michigan University.

The bride-elect and her fiance, Gary Huddleston of Morenci, plan to be married during their holiday vacation in December.

Mother-to-be is 'showered'

Guests from Inkster, Livonia, New Boston, Dexter, Ypsilanti and Belleville arrived at the Harris Road home of Diane Ferguson Oct. 18 to attend a cradle shower for her sister-in-law, Pat Shephard. Verdys Shephard was co-hostess and seven-year old Shari Ferguson lent a big hand in greeting friends at her aunt's shower.

Pink and blue streamers and a mirror creation with baby pictures of Pat and her hubby, Jim, and the question "Who will baby look like?" added a festive touch to the living room.

Along with baby theme games the group wrote cards for the expected heir's first-through-fifth birthdays as well as for its first Christmas, Easter and Valentine's Day - all to be opened on those dates for the baby by his mom and dad. Marie Doser of Dexter took home the door prize.

Besides gifts received that evening, Pat also opened presents sent in advance from Iowa and Florida. Cake, ice cream and lots of socializing concluded the festivities.

Shower tagged 'personal'

In a little more than a month, Brenda Oelke and Kenneth Ery, both of Belleville, will find themselves at the altar of the First United Methodist Church in the city. December 7 is the date they've chosen for their wedding day.

And since good friends usually put their heads together to plan showers for the bride-elect, there's the fun of pre-wedding parties to look forward to. Such was the case Oct. 21 when three of Brenda's co-workers from the University of Michigan gave her a personal shower. Barbara Hosler, Rita Witler and Chris Arnold, all of Ann Arbor, played hostesses for the event held at the Hosler home.

An autumn color scheme was used in decorating and for the floral centerpiece at the buffet dinner. Lap games were played and when it came time to unwrap the many pretty trousseau items, the honoree was assisted by Peggy Kassuba of Romulus, who's to be her maid of honor.

Besides Brenda's office friends, guests included her mother, Betty Oelke, future mother-in-law, Anna Ery, and sister, Bonnie Pinter, all of Belleville, as well as Betty Burgett and Sharon Oelke from Ypsilanti.

FIREMEN VISIT — Two representatives from the Huron Township Fire Department paid a visit to the Huron Countryside Cooperative Nursery recently to display fire-fighting equipment and to verse the youngsters on fire safety and prevention. Ron Spiewak (left) and Mickey Sheats (right) visited the classroom to explain what to do in case of a fire.

Firemen visit Huron Countryside Nursery

The children of Huron Countryside Cooperative Nursery had a surprise visit from the Huron Township Fire Department Oct. 18. Ron Spiewak and Mickey Sheats, firemen from Station No. 3, generously donated their time and gave the children a talk and tour of their truck showing the equipment needed for a firefighter's job.

The children were fascinated as they watched the men demonstrate use of their hose from the truck which carries 500 gallons of water. They listened to the siren and radio and were shown the ladders, picks and lights and were told how they were used at the scene of a fire.

From there everyone entered the classroom where the firemen demonstrated the use of a Scott air pack. Some very important safety lessons were taught that day, one of the most important rules for the children being what to do if they were trapped in a burning building. They were told never to hide but, rather, to stand by a window where they could be seen. Another was the importance of never playing with cigarette lighters, matches or fire of any kind. The children also learned that a fireman is their friend.

The nursery's general membership monthly meeting was held Oct. 16. Guest speaker for the evening was Joan Gensman, district vice-president from the Greater Detroit Cooperative Nursery Council. She addressed the group on the function of a co-op nursery and the services of the "G.D.C.N.C." Membership chairman Sharon Hamilton announced that the membership waiting list is short and she is accepting enrollment applications at 654-2456.

Health clinics to aid children

From noon until 5:00 p.m. this Sunday, the Wayne County Health Department in cooperation with several outer Wayne County hospitals is conducting immunization clinics, which will offer polio, measles and rubella vaccines at no charge.

If your child is over 12 months of age and has not had at least 3 doses of oral polio vaccine, not counting shots, one dose of measles and one dose of rubella vaccine, you should attend one of these clinics. The maximum age is 18 with the exception of rubella, which is 11 years of age.

The clinics are being conducted as a community effort on behalf of the participating health care agencies as a part of Immunization Action Month (IAM).

IAM is a concerted effort by national, state and local health agencies to raise the low immunity levels in children to diseases as polio, measles, rubella, diphtheria, pertussis and tetanus.

Parents are urged to take advantage of the free immunization clinics and protect their children from the danger of childhood disease. The clinics are at the Dearborn Centennial Library, 16301 Michigan, Dearborn; Garden City Osteopathic Hospital, 6245 Inkster Rd.; Outer Drive Hospital, 26400 Outer Dr., Lincoln Park; Southland Mall, 23000 Eureka, Taylor; St. Mary's Hospital, 36475 Five Mile Rd., Livonia; Wayne County General Hospital on Merriman Road and Wyandotte General Hospital, 2331 Van Alstyne.

HERE'S A SWITCH — Teen-agers are famous for sponsoring impromptu parties and pizza is high on their list of favorite foods. But pizza in dessert form is not only new but it can be an interesting change for the crowd. Topped with chocolate flavor baking chips and confectioners sugar glaze, it's easy to make, easy to serve and easy to eat.

For your recipe file

Surprise! Pizza can be dessert, too!

Whether the teen-age party is a planned affair or a spur of the moment get-together, you can be fairly certain that pizza will rate high with your guests.

An all-pizza menu is an easy one to handle both for you and the kids. Traditional cheese and tomato pies may be ordered from the local pizzeria, but a "Party Dessert Pizza" should be your contribution to the menu. Pie-shaped cookie dough is prepared with flour, chopped nuts, baking powder, salt, baking soda, shortening, egg, and vanilla. The mixture is spread in one greased 12-inch pizza pan and chocolate flavor baking chips are sprinkled generously on top. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes. Remove from oven, and drizzle with "Confectioners Sugar Glaze."

Party Dessert Pizza

A standard pizza cutter adds an authentic note and, incidentally, is an ideal tool for cutting neat wedges.

1 cup unsifted cake flour *
½ teaspoon double-acting baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon baking soda
½ cup chopped nuts
one-third cup butter or other shortening
1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup chocolate flavor baking chips
Confectioners Sugar Glaze

*Or use 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour.
With vegetable shortening, add 1 tablespoon hot water after the sugar.

Mix flour with baking powder, salt, and soda; add nuts and set aside. Melt butter in saucepan; remove from heat. Add sugar; mix well. Cool slightly; then blend in egg and vanilla. Add flour mixutre, a small amount at a time, mixing well after each addition. Spread dough in a greased 12-inch pizza pan with ½ -inch rim. Sprinkle with chips, and bake at 350 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes. (Do not overbake.) Remove from oven, and drizzle with glaze. Cool; then cut into wedges. Makes 14 to 16 wedges.

Confectioners Sugar Glaze. Place 1 cup sifted confectioners sugar in a small bowl. Gradually blend in 1 tablespoon hot milk or water. Makes one-third cup.

At learning sessions

Expand your 'parenting' skills

The Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service is offering a series of four learning sessions designed to help parents improve their communication and parenting skills. The series planned as a kind of "parent's inservice training," will increase participants' skills in listening, communicating feelings and constructive conflict resolution.

Sessions are scheduled for Tuesday evenings, from 7:15 to 9:30 p.m., beginning on Nov. 6 (Wednesday - due to state elections) at the Dearborn Youth Center, Room 8.

"One of the main goals of the series," according to Kathy Bufton, extension home economist, "is to help people identify their typical ways of responding to situations and then to learn and practice alternate ways of responding. We aren't saying, "Do this and you'll be a perfect parent." We are saying, "Give this a try and see if it is helpful."

Mrs. Bufton will conduct the sessions scheduled for Wednesday, Nov. 6, and Tuesday, Nov. 12, 19 and 26. There is no charge to attend the series. Participants are requested to attend all four sessions and to purchase or borrow the book, "Parent Effectiveness Training," by Thomas Gordon.

Registration for the series will be on a first come, first served basis. Register by phoning 721-6565. Enrollment will be limited, but is open to anyone interested in expanding his or her communication skills. Husbands and wives are encouraged to attend the sessions together. Cooperative Extension Service educational programs are open to all interested people.

VFW Auxiliary at Eaton Rapids to tour home

The V.F.W. National Home at Eaton Rapids was recently visited by eight members of V.F.W. Auxiliary No. 4434 of Belleville. A luncheon was served at the guest house which has overnight facilities and a large dining area.

A tour of the center was headed by Ted Ocheltree, assistant director of the home. A short movie, "A Heritage of Love", was shown which told of the home's beginning 50 years ago up to the present time.

There are 34 cottages which can house 180 children on the premises as well as a volunteer fire department maintained by the home's children with adult supervision.

Other areas visited on the 50-acre campus were the nursery, Michigan cottage No. 3, the stores (which are for groceries and clothing), the laundry, community center and health-education center.

The national home's support comes mainly from V.F.W. members. The grounds include 640 acres in all with woodlands, a fertile farm and dairy land included. The children attend Eaton Rapids schools in their own fleet of buses.

Arrangements for the trip were made by Shirley Cullin, National Home chairman, and those accompanying her included Edna Harris, auxiliary president; Leona Agge, Coral Smrka, Laura Stiers, Helen Matewicz, Florence Hunter and Gladys Bordt.

Corey's brother is called 'Robbie'

We goofed last week in announcing the new Frost baby's arrival—mixing the newcomer with his three-year old brother. This issue, though, we (hopefully) have it correct and here's the statistics.

Robert and Jeanette Frost of 59 Henry St., Belleville, welcomed their second son, Robert Harry, Sept. 30 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor. The new addition, who's being called "Robbie", is the brother of three-year old Corey David.

The boys' grandparents are Harry and Lottie Ostrowski of Belleville and William Frost of Ypsilanti.

Famous conductor to appear as Detroit Symphony guest

Entertainment

World-renowned conductor William Steinberg will make his first appearance as guest conductor of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra at a pair of 8:30 p.m. concerts tomorrow and Friday at Ford Auditorium.

The soloist will be violinist Pinchas Zukerman, in a program including Wieniawski's Violin Concerto No. 2, Respighi's transcription of Bach's Passacaglid and Fugue in C minor, and Brahm's Symphony Nov.

The Friday night concert is part of the regular Saturday series, but played this week on Friday because of scheduling conflict.

STEINBERG WAS born in Cologne in 1899 and became assistant to Otto Klemperer at the Cologne Opera in 1920. He was director of the Frankfurt Opera from 1929 until he was dismissed by the Nazis in 1933; in 1936 he helped found the Palestine Orchestra, and two years later assistered Toscanini in organizing the NBC Symphony.

After five years as conductor of the Buffalo Philharmonic in 1952 he became Music Director of the Pittsburgh Symophony, the post he still holds. During this period he also has served as Music Director of the London Symphony and the Boston Symphony and has guest conducted his own and other orchestras all over the world.

Zukerman first studied violin with his father, and then at the Israel Conservatory and the Academy of Music in Tel Aviv. In 1967 he won the 26th annual Leventritt Award, and that fall he made his Detroit Symphony Orchestra debut.

He returned her in January 1969 and later that year made his New York Philharmonic debut at the age of 20. Mr. Zukerman was last heard with the Detroit symphony in February 1973.

Tickets for the concerts, priced at $7.50, $6.50, $5.50, $5, $4.50, $4 and $3.50, are available at Ford Auditorium box Office (961-0700). A limited number of tickets for students and senior citizens are available at Ford Auditorium box office beginning at 7:45 p.m. on the concert nights.

To sponsors

Theater offers prints

The Michigan Council for the Arts in conjunction with the National Endowment for the arts has awarded twin grants to the Detroit Repertory Theatre totaling $6500 in order to run a print-and-poster program. The print-and-poster program is under the direction of Zubel Kachadoorian, nationally-acclaimed painter and art supervisor for the Repertory Gallery.

Under provisions of the grants, five artists will be commissioned to produce signed prints and posters for 1974-74 production season at the repertory. The signed prints will be offered as an incentive to individuals, families, businesses and organizations to become sponsors and commissioners of the repertory.

A sponsorship costs $100 and includes a signed print, a membership to the supporting Patron Club, inclusion on the repertory's letterhead and important documents, and a free 8-ticket booklet to the plays. Commissionerships cost $250 and receive four signed prints. The prints will be sold individually at the Repertory Gallery for $75.

The posters derived from the prints will be used to promote the theatre and individual productions.

The first production of the season at the Detroit Repertory is a twin bill of Euripides "Medea," and Leroi Jones' "Dutchman" under the joint title of "Medea and the Dutchman." The play opens Nov. 7 and closes Dec. 29.

Anthony Williams, a veteran local artist, has been commissioned to do the print-and-poster for "Medea and the Dutchman." Williams is a graduate of arts and crafts, and has been an instructor at Arts and Crafts, Wayne County Community College, Cranbrook Academy. He is represented in many private collections and has exhibited at such diverse places as Butler Institute of Arts, Ball State University, Detroit Institute of Arts, Gertrude Kasle Gallery, Detroit Artists Market and the Midland Cultural Center. Williams was responsible for the poster for the Detroit Discovery Art Festival.

The Repertory has acquired a club liquor license and consequently has become the first professional club theatre in Michigan. Members may now enjoy the cocktails at the theatre when they attend productions.

For information about "Medea and the Dutchman," the print-and-poster program, sponstrships and commissionership, call 868-1347. Persons wishing general membership in order to enjoy cocktails and theatre, may purchase them for $30. New members receive a membership card and an 8-ticket booklet to the season's plays.

Gospel committee holds talent show

Weekend activities in store for Western Wayne County residents at Eastern Michigan University (EMU) include a black student talent night beginning at 8 p.m. Friday as part of a 3-day black culture series.

Public broadcaster holds young filmakers' contest

Channel 56, Detroit's public TV station, has invited young people in Western Wayne County to enter a national filmmaking contest for cash awards and the chance to have their films shown nationwide on public TV.

Entries in the Fourth Annual Filmmaker's Festival will be accepted until Jan. 15, 1975. The festival is being sponsored nationally by the Center for Understanding Media, in conjunction with the Public Broadcast Service (PBS).

Public TV stations are holding local festival contests and will send their first, second and third place winners to the national competition. Last year's contest netted 2,000 entries and 11 winners who shared more than $5,000 in prizes.

Anyone age six to 18 can enter any film made after Jan., 1, 1973. Films may be Super 8 mm, 8mm or 16 mm--with sound or silent--color or black and white. Entrants can submit as many films as they wish, on any theme and in any style.

Channel 56 will choose judges to decide local festival winners and will announce them in March 1975. Awards will be given in three categories: Primary six to 10 years old), Junior (11 to 14) and Senior (15 to 18).

National cash prizes in each category are $1,000 for first place, $500 for second and $200 for third. These winning films will be broadcast nationally in a special PBS program in the spring.

Channel 56 participated in the film festival in 1970 and received over 100 entries. This year's organizers expect an even greater response. For official entry blanks and more information, write Bob Rashid, WTVS--Channel 56, 7441 Second Blvd. Detroit, 48202.

For saving fuel

Federal agency issues tips

Western Wayne County residents can save money and help "WIN" the battle against energy waste, if they do what they can to conserve gasoline. President Ford has appealed to the American public to "drive at least 5 per cent fewer miles" and do even better than five per cent by carpooling, taking a bus, riding a bike or walking.

To give you more suggestions on how you can make you car's gasoline go further, the Federal Energy Administration has compiled thirty tips for the motorist. Owners of small pickup trucks also will find these tips helpful.

Here are some tips on how you can save gasoline when you drive:

START SLOWLY. Accelerate gently except when entering high-speed traffic lanes or when passing.

Drive at steady speeds. Hold a steady foot on the accelerator as long as traffic conditions permit. On the highway, "seesawing" or repeatedly varying the speed by 5 miles per hour can reduce fuel economy by as much as 1.3 miles per gallon.

Avoid excessive idling. When you stop the car, don't idle the engine for more than a minute. If you are waiting for someone, turn off the engine.

Consolidate your driving. Combine short shopping and commuting trips to reduce the miles traveled for each action.

PRE-PLAN YOUR trips. Figure out which route will require the least fuel. Allow for the fact that freeway driving is nearly twice as economical as driving in heavy city traffic. Travel during off-peak traffic times whenever possible. Use routes with a minimum number of traffic lights and stop signs.

Bikers may be cause of many auto collisions

Bicycle sales have tripled during the last decade, especially in Western Wayne County and deaths and accidents on bikes have doubled.

Biking is a pollution-free way to travel, and it also can be fun, healthy, and cheap.

Bike riders are supposed to observe most of the regulations and signals meant for cars, but many don't. A recent study of accidents involving bicycles and cars on the West Coast showed that bikers had violated the traffic laws in almost 70 percent of the cases. The most common violation was not obeying stop signs.

A report by the Oregon State Highway Division also showed that bikers made far more errors than drivers did. Most accidents happened because bikers didn't yield the right of way, used the wrong arm signals or none at all when they turned, rode on the wrong side, and ignored stoplights.

And last year a study of 600 bicycles accidents, which was conducted by the Consumer Product Safety Commission, showed that two-thirds of the accidents resulted from riding double on bikes designed for one, performing stunts, losing control of braking, and hitting bumps and ruts.

Safer cycling is possible. Observing regulations helps.

Keeping bikes in good condition is important, too; 20 percent of accidents are caused by mechanical and structural failures.

Biking is one way to cut car exhaust and fight air pollution. Contact the American Lung Association of Southeastern Michigan about other ways to help curb pollution.

Vets may use toll-free phone

Toll-free telephone service for every veteran in Western Wayne County and the rest of the state of Michigan is available to the regional office in Detroit. The state's 1.1 million veterans and their dependents may use this service when seeking information or help for veterans benefits.

Frank Kilcullen, Veterans Administration (VA) regional office director in Detroit, said the service was set up for veterans who did not live near VA offices. It was begun in November 1968 for Muskegon and Grand Rapids veterans and expanded to the remainder of the state in July 1973.

Toll-free numbers are listed in telephone directories. Individual town numbers are: Ann Arbor, 662-2506; Battle Creek, 962-7568; Bay City, 894-4556; Flint, 234-8646; Grand Rapids, 456-8511; Jackson, 787-7030; Kalamazoo, 344-0156; Lansing-East Lansing, 484-7713; Muskegon, 726-4895; Saginaw, 754-7475, and in Detroit the number is 874-1575.

In other areas of Michigan veterans may reach a VA benefits counselor in Detroit toll-free by dialing 1-800-572-9835.

Kilcullen said statewide toll-free service is available in 30 states. Directlines connect 274 communities via 360 lines with regional offices in 15 other states. VA benefits counselors handle more than 1.3 million calls each month.

- Dispose of, by sale to private enterprise, the Wayne County General Hospital which loses over 50 million tax dollars per year to operate — at best a half-used facility.
- To investigate regional governments, their need and accomplishments with the possibility of withdrawing Wayne County from SEMCOG, SEMTA and re-establishing Wayne County autonomy.
- To examine the entire health and welfare structure of Wayne County—its relationship to state welfare abuses, with a goal of cutting back this most single greatest expenditure of all county funds.
- Get the County out of the airport business by turning the administration over to private enterprise and thus establishing a tax asset instead of a liability.
- Document the amount of real property exempted from taxes by tax exempt Foundations in order to re-assess such properties, thus lessening the tax burden on the private owner.
- Investigate judicial leniency in relation to rampant growth of crime and make recommendations to the proper government agency.
- Cut down or eliminate all programs which are not essential and to cobine or amalgamate or disband all services which tend to be duplicated in other departments thus streamlining and cutting down and the tax burden in accordance with the maxim — less taxes through less government.

Board urges support of veterans' bonus bid

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners has urged public support for the Nov. 5 ballot proposal which would provide a bonus for veterans of the armed services who served during the Vietnam Era.

Ballot Proposal B, if given voter approval, would provide a bonus up to $600 for some veterans in Western Wayne County and the rest of the state who served in Vietnam.

"Our veterans deserve at least the same consideration that has been extended to veterans of World War I and II and Korean conflict," said Board Chairman Robert E. FitzPatrick.

He noted that the State of Michigan has already paid a military bonus to veterans of both world wars and the Korean conflict, and asserted that "Michigan also owes a debt of gratitude to the heroic veterans of Vietnam."

FitzPatrick recalled that the commissioners adopted a resolution in June which called for payment of the bonus and asked for support from Wayne County residents.

Proposal B would authorize the state to borrow $205 million to finance the program which would award a bonus of up to $600 to combat veterans and a maximum of $450 to non-combat veterans based on months of service at $15 per month. Beneficiaries of deceased veterans would also qualify.

The county board chairman called the measure "essential and necessary to maintain the Michigan tradition of respect and appreciation for the fathers and sons who have sacrificed for us in time of need."

Calf-slaughter incident brings bureau daggers

The Michigan Farm Bureau has issued a statement disapproving of the slaughter and burial of cattle by owners in an effort to call attention to their economic problems.

"The few desperate cattlemen who slaughtered and buried their calves to call public attention to their plight have given agriculture a 'black eye' and have made it tough for the majority of farmers who value their producer - consumer relationships," the statement said.

However, the bureau continued, livestock producers are in serious trouble because prices have dropped 30 to 40 per cent during the past year while production costs have increased nearly 20 per cent.

The organization suggested a more positive approach, including "Give Meat for Christmas" campaigns and other efforts to promote meat comsumption.

In Sumpter

Trustees reject pond plans

The Sumpter Township Board of Trustees has turned down plans of a sand and gravel firm for the creation of a 35-acre pond in the township.

The 25-foot deep pond was to have been dug at Sherwood and Arkona roads by the Holloway Sand and Gravel Co., located in Wixom.

The action by the township trustees in killing the firm's plans for the large pond was taken at a recently held, crowded township board session. The rejection by the township was by a 4-3 vote.

..APPROXIMATELY 60 township residents appeared in the township hall at the Oct. 22 meeting of the trustees and voiced strenuous objections to the pond.

A request for a permit to establish the pond was denied by the trustees June 11, then subsequently approved on Sept. 24.

At the Oct. 22 sewsion, Supervisor Robert D. Marble, Township Treasurer Bertram J. Bradley and Trustee David Garlic voted in favor of the pond as they did at the two previous meetings.

Trustees Marlower Fowler, Harvey Moore and Township Clerk Clarence J. Hoffman Jr. opposed the issuance of the permit.

THE DECIDING vote in opposing the project was cast by Trustee Noah Folks after voting in favor of the pond at the Sept. 24 session.

Residents presented the township board with a petition containing 282 signatures, all opposing the pond project.

Many residents cited water pollution and traffic problems and others questioned whetther the proposed pond could ever be suitable for swimming or boating.

In other matters, the trustees approved the hiring of four addiional police officers to bring the police force to seven full-time officers.

Three of the new officers will be paid out of federal funds supplied under the provisions of the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act and one new officer will be paid out of the township's general operating fund.

IN THE MATTER of a new employment contract covering township employees who are members of AFSCME Locals 755 and 1882, the township board approved arbitration procedures.

The employees involved in the contract negotiations have yet to settle this year's contract.

Overpass may be opened by late winter or spring

The reopening by the Michigan Department of Highways and Transportation of the Haggerty Road overpass on I-94 now is planned for late winter or early spring according to current construction schedules of highway road crews.

The Haggerty Road overpass was closed in September as part of a relocation of I-94 approximately 300 feet north of its present boundaries. It was estimated by highway department engineers that the rebuilding of the Haggerty Road bridge would take about a year.

At a recent session of project engineers attended by Van Buren Township Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer, it was decided to continue the bridge construction during the winter season as much as possible and to hasten current construction plans on related work to permit, if at all possible, an earlier opening of the bridge.

Head Project Engineer William J. Kasip stated: "We're making every effort to get the bridge open by late winter. Currently so much depends on the weather, but we are doing everything we can to speed up the opening of the bridge.

Current plans under construction are to open up a paved section of I-94 under the bridge then build the bridge abutments or supports to the south, he said.

If the abutments are constructed before the ground freezes, the bridge work could go on during the winter. With added insulation, the bridge deck could be paved in mid-winter and the bridge opened soon after, Kasip concluded.

Haggerty Road is one of Van Buren Township's three overpasses on I-94. Its closing has created numerous vehicular problems for township residents and businesses.

GM Willow Run plant lays off 700 employes

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Enterprise-Roman
Automotive Writer

More than 700 employes at the General Motors Corp. Willow Run Assembly Plant in Ypsilanti will face layoffs as the giant automaker is cutting back production to meet lowered demands for new cars.

Production at the plant, which manufactures GM small compacts, has been cut back from 70 to 60 cars per hour.

WINS THIRD PLACE—Romulus Senior High School sophomore class won the third place trophy in the high school's 1974 Homecoming parade. The sophomores selected the makings of a cave and clubs to convey a class message to the high school's football team, the Eagles, for the remainder of the football season.—The Enterprise-Roman photo.

The layoffs are part of about 6,000 nationwide which GM is undertaking to make production meet customer demand.

Chrysler eyes cuts

Chrysler Corp. workers at the automakers Jefferson Assembly Plant in Detroit are awaiting word on their fate.

The top administrators in the corporation said last week that the company may consider closing down one of its major assembly plants in the near future to make its production meet consumer demand.

Workers at the Jefferson Assembly Plant manufacture Chrysler Corp. "big cars," but with the energy crisis, demand for big automobiles has fallen off.

Slump is blessing

While "bad news" about the auto industry dominates the wires, some analysts for the nation's economy say that the economic slump may be a blessing in disquise.

Dr. Paul W. McCracken, economic advisor to former President Richard M. Nixon, said Detroit's problems actually are insulated from the rest of the nation.

Some economists believe that Detroit's woes with the auto industry may serve as a warning to others in the nation and may spur an economic upturn.

Said one Wall Street analyst. "Only when people become more confident will they start buying cars again."

Economists believe that the auto industry suffers first in an economic crisis because of all American consumer goods, the automobile is the one whose purchase can be delayed the longest.

GM revises forecast

General Motors Corp. is revising its production forecasts downward in light of the continuing economic slump in the nation.

Where the giant automaker once projected production of 10 million vehicles during the 1975 model year, it now anticipates production of 9.5 million vehicles after the first month of the model year.

Buick sets pace

Buick Motor Division of the General Motors Corp. has received an honor when the 1975 Buick Century coupe was chosen as the pace car for the Indianapolis 500 motor race.

The selection marks the third time since the race was started that Buick will provide the pace car.

Buick also started the race in 1939 and 1959.

Church youth to present films on Halloween night

Halloween Night at Plymouth Salem High School will feature the presentation of two movies under the sponsorship of the Huron Valley Youth for Christ. The showings will begin at 7:30 p.m.

"The Enemy" is the feature film, a trus story of demons in our world today. Adapted from the book of the same name by Jim Grout and published by Tyndale House, it details the experience of a young couple named Tim and Betsy.

Exorcism occurs in the film-carefully re-enacting the actual ritual.

"The Enemy" is not a film designed to entertain people, but rather is intended to unmask Satan as he really is, and to offer an alternative and method for dealing with the powers of Satan. It is not recommended for children under 13 years of age.

Also being shown is "The Occult," adapted from the best-seller by Hal Linday, "Satan is Alive and Well on Planet Earth."

"I believe that people are being given superhuman powers from Satan in order that they may promote his work on earth. We are only at the beginning of this explosion," Linday says in explaining his work.

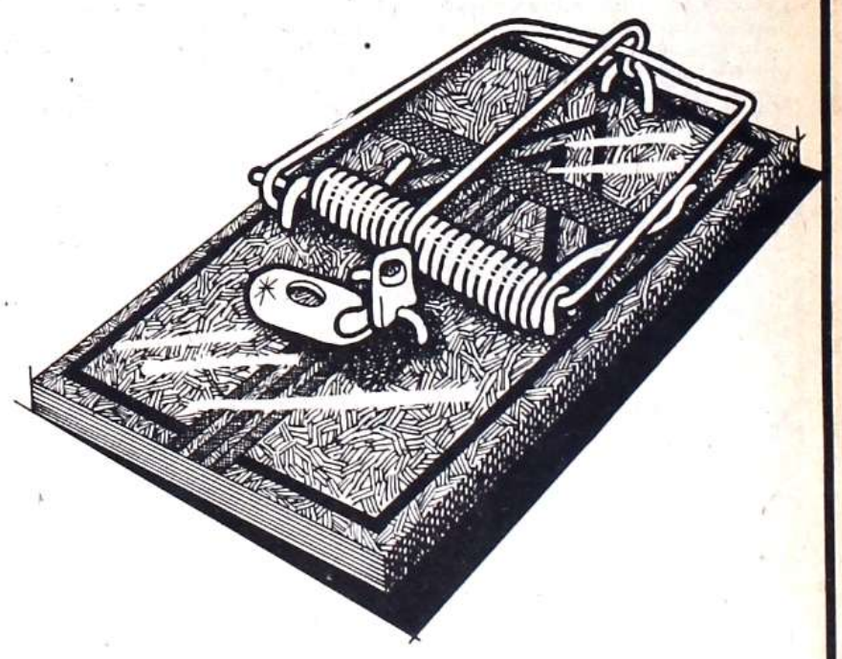

"The Occult" examines the origin of Satan and how he attempts to influence and control the lives of many people today.

Admission to both films is $1.50 and further information may be obtained by calling Huron Valley Youth for Christ at 484-0320.

Park naturalist retires Friday

The first naturalist hired by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority (HCMA), a man who developed the current nature interpretive program at two Metroparks in Wayne County, will retire Friday.

William F. Hopkins, who started as a seasonal naturalist at Kensington Metropark in 1952, became chief naturalist for the HCMA in February 1953 and pioneered the development of the nature interpretive program at All Metroparks, including Lower Huron Metropark near Belleville.

The program includes nature trails for self-guided hikes, naturalist-led hikes for school groups and special Sunday morning walks for the general public, exhibits at the Nature Centers, leader orientation programs, lectures provided at the nature centers for school classes and a program of naturalists' lectures at schools during the winter months.

The Association of Interpretive Naturalists (AIN) presented its 1972 AIN Fellow Award to Hopkins for his contribution and leadership to the professional group since 1958, and for the excellent program he developed for the Metropark system.

Several weeks ago, Hopkins received the 1974 HCMA Recognition Award from his fellow employes for his outstanding contribution to the authority during more than 22 years of service.

The naturalist served with the U.S. Forest Service from 1934-39, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service from 1939-49 and also was president of the Michigan Parks Association in 1971.

He is a 1934 graduate of the University of Michigan, and in a few weeks will move with his wife from Michigan to Sugar Loaf Shores, a community near Key West, Fla.

Every bank makes it easy to put your money in. National Bank of Detroit thinks it should be just as easy to get your money back out.

That's why we've installed 24-Hour Bankers at 14 convenient locations (with more to come), where you can make deposits, withdrawals, transfer funds or even take out a small loan...7 days a week, 24 hours a day.

And we've extended our drive-in branch hours so they're open when you're most likely to drive in. 69 NBD drive-in offices are now open until 7:30 every weeknight and until one in the afternoon on Saturday.

We've also installed a Computer Contact System that makes it easy for you to do your banking at any NBD office you happen to be near instead of just the one that has your account.

NBD really wants to do everything possible to make banking better for you. But if we don't make you happy, we guarantee to give you your money back... anytime.

In 27th District

Smith and Chapman face off for county seat

Although there is no major party opposition in the Nov. 5 general election, Belleville's Democratic Mayor Royce E. Smith faces a challenge from an American Independent Party (AIP) candidate in his bid for the 27th District seat on the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

Smith, 58, who has been the mayor of the City of Belleville for the last 10 years, is being challenged for the county post by Dr. E. Forrest Chapman, M.D., 44, of the AIP.

Dr. Chapman also resides in Belleville and has offices in Romulus.

Smith edged out incumbent Brian G. Arrowsmith of Canton Township in the Democratic commissioners race in the August primary election. There were no Republicans running in the primary election.

Arrowsmith was initally elected to the post in 1972 when running as Republican.

SMITH HAS been stressing in his campaign that he intends to fight for rural and suburban outcounty residents if elected to the county board of commissioners. Smith formerly was a member of the Wayne County Board of Supervisor, predecessor of the present county board.

Dr. Chapman has been pledging a fight for less government ands more free enterprise. Dr. Chapman said he would like to see the county sell both the Wayne County General Hospital and Detroit Metropolitan Airport, based in Romulus, to private interests.

He contends that the hospital has been losing money as a "boon-doggle" and would be better run by a business firm.

He also opposes the continuance of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department road patrol services and favors the establishment of village and township police departments.

HAVING THE COUNTY handle police protection in out-county areas violates the principle of autonomy of local governments, Dr. Chapman stated.

Smith countered with the fact that the central issue is that "Western Wayne County is not receiving its fair share of the county money."

He added that county roads in Western Wayne County communities are "deplorable" and the sheriff's road patrol should be increased instead of eliminated.

Sumpter candidates push for new support

Sumpter Township candidates seeking administrative posts in township government are increasing their drive for voter support as the Nov. 5 general election nears.

Up for voters' selection are candidates seeking the post of supervisor, treasurer, clerk, two township trustees and four township constables.

In addition to choosing their administrative officials for the next wo years, township voters also will be selecting their choices for national, state, county and judicial positions and four state propositions.

VOTING PRECINCTS will open at 7 a.m. next Tuesday and all in line at the 8 p.m. closing time will be permitted to cast their ballots.

Seeking a return to the supervisor's post is Democrat and former supervisor Elmer Parraghi of 39701 Willis Rd. He will be opposed by Republican Henry Majors, a former township trustee currently residing at 24061 Sumpter Rd.

Parraghi defeated incumbent Supervisor Robert D. Marble in the August primary.

Competing for township treasurer is Democrat Louis P. Banotai, 53, of 20323 Elwell Rd. He is being opposed by Republican Bruce G. Merritt, 49, of 9749 Rawsonville Rd. Banotai won the Democratic nomination in the August primary.

RUNNING unopposed for township clerk is Democrat Robert Demski. He ousted incumbent Democrat Clarence G. Hoffman Jr. in the primary.

Battling for the town-township trustees positions are incumbent Democrat Marlowe D. Fowler, 35, of 49683 Collyer Court; and Democrat Cecil Hall, market operator and owner, of 20966 Haggerty Rd. They are being opposed by Republican Leonard Dombek, 49, of 29401 Marvinsville Rd.

Voters will also elect four constables. Competing for constable are four Democrats including the incumbents. They are Terry Williams, Michael Berry, Ralph Griffith and William J. Smith, a newcomer.

LET'S GET THROUGH THE RUBBISH!

...and look at the only real issue in this community (Van Buren Township) and in this election. The real issue is whether or not there will be an Expansion of the Willow Run Airport.

Prevention of the proposed expansion is a day to day battle, of being ever careful to detect any tactical move which might jeopardize the position of our community. Such an expansion, among other things, would substantially affect our tax base, cause irreparable harm by way of air and noise pollution, and result in lower property values on our homes. In short, such an expansion would be a disaster.

A careful review of this matter reveals that we are indeed fortunate to have Elton Gollwitzer, our present supervisor, a man of integrity, intelligence and foresight, leading this fine community in its fight to prevent the aforementioned airport expansion. This man has the respect of everyone he deals with and has worked hard to close off all routes which might lead to such an expansion. He understands what has to be done, how to do it, and is taking those steps necessary to accomplish that end. This man is a man of action and deserves your support and vote in the upcoming election.

Sincerely,

Van Buren approves liquor license request

The Van Buren Township Board of Trustees has approved the issuance of one of its two remaining Class C liquor licenses to Nickerson and Nickerson, Inc., of Omaha, Neb., a nationwide chain of restaurants.

The firm intends to construct a new Nickerson Farms Restaurant on Belleville Road, just north of I-94.

Representatives of the firm had filed a license request with the Michigan Liquor Control Commission (MLCC) as well as with the township trustees. The recommended approval by the township board will be forwarded to the MLCC.

COMPANY representatives said their new restaurant will be open by "late spring or early summer." It will have a cocktail lounge featuring live entertainment.

Van Buren Township Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer disclosed that the township's one remaining liquor license is being kept as an inducement to any large concern which might consider locating in Van Buren Township.

Currently there are about seven liquor dispensing establishments in the township, it was noted. The MLCC alloted the township three new Class C liquor licenses based on population increases as reflected in the 1970 U.S. Census.

One of the liquor licenses had been issued to a new cocktail lounge and restaurant that opened in the township more than a year ago.

IN OTHER matters considered by the township board at its recent session was the approval of a lease extension to Dec. 31, 1975 on the use of 11 acres of township property by the Detroit Edison Co.

The 11-acre land parcel, part of the 101-acre recreational park located on the north shore of Belleville Lake, will be used by the Edison Company as an "Edison Pole Training Field" as in previous years.

The 101-acre recreational site now known as Van Buren Park was given to the township by the Edison Co. as a gift in December, 1973.

The township board also:

-- AGREED TO re-imburse Gerald Hoskins of 41195 Van Born Rd. for 33 fowl killed by stay dogs. Hoskins had requested payment of $82.50. Under the provisions of an existing ordinance, the board allowed payment of not more than $1 per fowl.

Ghosts need safety

Each Halloween, the Romulus Jaycees offer suggestions to help parents assure the safety of their children while trick-or-treating. Here are some of those suggestions:

—An adult should accompany children, taking along a flashlight.

—Stay in familiar territory, preferably your own neighborhood.

—ACCEPT nothing from people in parked cars.

Look before crossing streets.

—Dress so that your mask or costume does not block your vision or hinder movements. Widen the eye holes with scissors if necesaary.

—Dress in bright clothing and put reflecting tape on costumes or trick-or-treat bags.

—DO NOT eat any of your candy while still trick-or-treating. Wait until you get home, where parents should promptly empty the contents of the bag and examine each piece.

—Cut open all apples and oranges and throw away all unwrapped candy.

—Report any dangerous objects found in candy or fruit to the police.

Driving parents should remember to drive slowly, watching for children darting out between parked cars.

District orders 5 buses

The Huron School District has ordered five new school buses for a total of $52,817.90. The bid for financing was awarded to the Wyandotte Savings Bank at 5.5 per cent interest per annum over a 3year period.

WHY... do we have a new model Zoning Ordinance?
WHY... is Van Buren one of the few townships retaining control of property assessment?

In Wayne County race

Judicial candidates have diverse backgrounds

By JEAN CALMEN
The Enterprise-Roman
Special Writer

A person might spend his entire life without becoming involved in a court case if...

A law-abiding citizen can go for years not knowing or caring much about courts. Besides, if he lives out in Western Wayne County he will probably say the courts are all in Detroit and he never goes down there anyway.

Such a person might spend his entire life without becoming involved in a court case if he is able to keep his spouse happy, his children orderly, his neighbors friendly, and his business associates satisfied; if he remains financially solvent, pays all bills and fulfills all contracts; if he is never involved ina serious accident; if he does not commit or become victim of a crime; and if he is never called as a witness or a juror.

However, upon his death, his estate will go to probate court for settlement.

IN ADDITION to settling estates, Wayne County Probate Court handles cases pertaining to mental incompetents and to minors, including adoptions, changes of name, guardianship and juvenile delinquency.

Three judges for probate court are to be elected on Nov. 5, each to receive a salary of $36,330 annually.

Willis F. Ward, a Detroit resident and currently probate judge, is unopposed to fill a vacancy for the current term ending Jan. 1, 1979.

Four candidates competing for two new seats with 6-year terms are Y. Gladys Barsamian, Thomas A. Maher, Harold M. Ryan and Samuel L. Simpson.

THERE ARE other courts to deal with other situations.

A police car in Wayne responds to a report that a man is attempting suicide. As a police officer approaches the man's house, a shotgun blast from inside hits him in the head. The officer is hospitalized and eventually dies. A suspect is arrested and brought to trial in the 3rd Circuit Court in Detroit.

Circuit court hears cases involving crimes committed in Wayne County but outside Detroit. It also hears civil cases, those involving two private parties rather than a crime against society, when $10,000 or more is at stake. Divorce and domestic relations are within its jurisdiction.

Wayne County voters will elect 14 circuit judges this fall, each to serve for six years at a salary of $40,157.

FIVE NEW seats will be filled from a list of 10 candidates including the county prosecutor, a former Detroit mayor and judges in various lower courts.

The candidates are Irwin H. Burdick, William L. Cahalan, John J. Conley, Andrew DiMaggio, Richard D. Dunn, Roman S. Gribbs, Thomas L. Poindexter, Joseph B. Sullivan, Henry J. Szymanski and Daniel J. Van Antwerp.

Nine additional seats for regular terms now ending will be filled from 11 candidates. nine of whom are incumbents.

Candidates are Victor J. Baum, James N. Canham, Gerald T. Celeskey, Neal Fitzgerald, Charles Kaufman, John R. Kirwan, James Montante, John D. O'Hair, Thomas Roumell, James Soltez and Peter B. Spivak.

THE MICHIGAN Court of Appeals hears cases that have already been decided in a lower court when the loser can present evidence that the verdict may have been unjust. The appellate courts may uphold or reverse judgments made in lower courts and, in turn, may have their own judgments nullified by a higher court, the Supreme Court of Michigan or of the United States.

Four judges are to be elected for the 1st District Court of Appeals. The district includes Wayne, Washtenaw and Livingston counties.

Judges serve 6-year terms at $41,961 annually.

Two new seats are being added, the judges to be selected from four candidates and all curent judges in lower courts. They are Henry Heading, Nathan J. Kaufman, Richard M. Maher and Joseph A. Sullivan.

TWO APPELLATE court judges are unopposed for two regular seats. They are George N. Bashara Jr., of Grosse Pointe Woods and Vincent J. Brennan, of Detroit.

Brief qualifications of the various candidates are listed below. More complete information, including some opinions of the candidates on current judicial problems, has been compiled by the League of Women Voters and is available at branches of the public library.

AN EXPENSIVE DECISION - Carpet is the showiest home furnishing a decorator must consider, and the choice of style should not be made hastily. In order to get your money's worth in this major investment, gather as much information, as many opinions and as many facts as you can before you start shopping for carpeting. Several professional decorators and carpet manufacturers provide consumer services and are glad to offer their help.

Wise carpet shoppers ask many questions

Home Improvement

Carpet is too big an investment to make without careful planning, and shoppers in Western Wayne County should know it can represent as much as 20 per cent of the total furnishings budget for a given room.

With the myriad texture-fiber-color combinations available on today's market, it is no wonder that homemakers are confused when they begin to consider this important purchase.

To help choose wisely, here are some clues to problem-free shopping.

FIRST, make a plan by listing the rooms you want to carpet with approximate room sizes.

Then decide whether you want wall-to-wall, room-size or an area rug. Wall-to-wall carpeting provides a look of spaciousness; room size rugs can be turned to equalize wear; area rugs provide drama–and, like room-size rugs, can be taken up when you move.

Wearability is what most people look for, and you should consider traffic in this case. Pile density is an important factor in durability. If the pile is thick, packed tightly, and resilient, chances are the carpet will wear well. Check the pile density by bending back a corner of the carpet. The old rule--the deeper, the denser, the better--will always apply.

Most carpet today is tufted. To put it simply, fiber is pushed through a backing to form little loops called tufts. The yarn that appears on the surface is either left as loops or is cut. There are many variations of cut and uncut pile carpets.

AS A GENERAL rule, shags provide a formal or informal look depending on the height and density of the pile. Plushes are decidedly formal, and their tendency to show footprints like velvet is part of their appeal.

Versatility and beauty are not the only virtues of today's technological advances. Man-made fibers developed for carpet manufacture in special lengths, thicknesses and colors have never been easier to care for. All man-made fibers have these qualities in common: They clean well, are mildew -proof, mothproof and non-allergenic.

Most of the confusion in buying carpet lies in the identification of fiber. While the consumer is subjected to literally hundreds of fiber brand names, there are, in fact, only four basic man-made fiber types used in residential carpet today: nylon, acrylic, polyester and polypropylene.

SINCE PADDING is a must, get the best you can afford. Padding protects your investment by extending the life of your carpeting and rugs. It also adds comfort, absorbs shock, and insulates against noises, heat and cold. Many fine-quality carpet have built-in- high - density rubber-cushioned backing which not only gives uniform support but cuts down on installation costs...a good way to get your "money's worth."

Architect calls for over haul

Contemporary buildings are wasting irreplaceable energy

One of America's foremost experts in the field of thermal energy storage, solar heating, and energy conservation design has called for a radical overhaul in the processes by which structures are designed and engineered, charging that in an age of growing energy shortages, contemporary buildings are wasting vast quantities of irreplaceable energy.

In his position paper, "Energy Conservation and Architecture," delivered at Hillsdale College's Center for Constructive Alternatives, John Robertson Cox, the architect commissioned to design the U.S. Post Office's first solar heated and cooled postal facility, challenged the architectural community to stop the "sprawl of slick, glass-sided energy wasting monuments" as a major step in conserving energy supplies.

"For the most part, contemporary structures continue to reflect a belief in an unlimited energy resource supply," Cox told the Hillsdale sumposium.

Repeating his testimony to the Senate Commerce Committee, Cox said energy wasting structures are common in America because "the concepts of energy conservation have not been a major criteria for building design. If the environmental systems of a building are to be energy efficient, the building design itself must be energy efficient."

Buildings of the future, Cox claimed, will be energy efficient only if planning begins with analyses of the effect of climate, topography, vegetation, sun, and wind on the orientation and configuration of a building. From this base the designer can then proceed rationally to decisions regarding other architectural considerations–from, siting, wall construction, openings for light and ventilation, color, shading and landscaping. Then the designer can use the technology of air conditioning, heating, and lighting systems to fine tune the building to the levels of comfort desired."

Cox, who is co-authoring a book on energy conservation in buildings, said that we possess more knowledge about envirommental factors than ever before, but we have generally failed to translate available technology into energy efficient design. The reason for this Cox said, is that too many costly design decisions are typically made before environmental and energy decisions are confronted.

A walk-a-thon, the highlight of a series of school-sponsored events now underway for the benefit of the March of Dimes fund campaign will be held Saturday in the Belleville area.

The walk-a-thon, initiated and sponsored by the student council at South Junior High School in Belleville, will be a proposed walk of 20 miles beginning at 8 a.m. at the K-mart Store located at Rawsonville Road and I-94, and ending at Roys and Main streets in downtown Belleville.

The event since its announcement more than two weeks ago, is attracting an increasing number of participants including school board members, community leaders and area legislators, according to Phyllis Greer and William Loyd, coordinators of the March of Dimes program.

In commenting on the proposed walk, Loyd said much credit should be given to the South Junior High Student Council members who wanted to get community-wide participation in a series of planned events aimed at making a larger contribution to the March of Dimes than in previous years.

An invitation to North Junior High School students to participate in the walk-a-thon by South Junior High was accepted. Students from both schools presently are seeking pledges from area business to sponsor walk-a-thon participants.

Other scheduled events for the March of Dimes campaign under student sponsorship included a "fun night" held last Friday at South Junior High. The proceeds from the operation of concessions at the fun night, such as baked goods and other goodies, will be given to the March of Dimes.

Music at the event was furnished by a musical combo composed of students playing under the name of "Felix."

A dance will be held on Nov. 21 at South Junior High School.

For treatment

25 residents enter hospital

Twenty-five Western Wayne County residents found it necessary to enter either Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti or Belvil Community Hospital in Belleville within the last week for various surgical or medical treatments.

Admitted to Beyer for surgery were Belleville residents John Leroy of Edwards, Mrs. Sterling Mullins of Denton Road and Paul E. Darke of Elwell Road. Belleville residents entering Beyer for medical treatment were Mrs. George Copp of Elwell Road, Robert Padgett of Sumpter Road, Clyde Dodson of Borgman and Valiant Bondie II of Willis Road.

Admitted to Belvil for surgery were Belleville residents Bernice Bachman of Tyler Road, Linda Ganger of Jackson, Louis Holly of Village Green Drive, Patrick Casey of Thompkins and David Clay of Brain Street.

Ypsilanti residents entering Belvil for surgery included Alan Barnes of Florence, Alphonso Jones of International Village, Tammy Stubbs of Jeff Avenue, Elsie Alexander of Woodlawn Avenue, JoAnne Ingram of Woodcreek, George Powell of E. Grand Boulevard, Maxine Johnson of Emmerson, Robert Coleman of N. LaMay and Carol Harrington of DeSoto.

Admitted to Belvil for medical treatment were Belleville residents Sandry McCoy of Fenster, Victoria Maes of Bemis Road and Kinney Bruff of Sumpter Road and Ypsilanti resident Nancy Hughes of Roosevelt.

In addition, two Belleville couples became proud parents with the recent births of their babies at Beyer. They were: Mr. and Mrs. David Duncan of Willis Road with a 7 lb. 12 oz. boy and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Russell of Outer Drive with a 5 lb. 12 oz. boy.

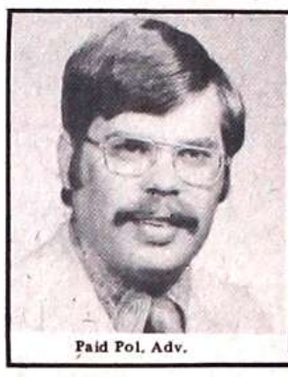

Counseling unit plans its annual road rally

Belleville's crisis-counseling center "The Number," is sponsoring its second annual "country bumpkin" rally on Nov. 24 this year.

The road rally will be a 70-mile contest limited to 100 cars. The first car is scheduled to leave Belleville High School, 501 W. Columbia Ave. in Belleville at approximately noon.

Sponsors said that 80 per cent of the 70 miles to be traveled by participants consists of dirt roads. Check points will be established along the route to keep track of time consumed by rally drivers.

For pre-registration and other information on the road rally, interested persons are asked to contact Kathy Horste at 699-7968.

To area 4-H

New series gives challenge

Members and leaders of 4-H Clubs in Western Wayne County have been invited to participate in "Challenge," a new program just added to the 4-H roster.

Taking a lead from the highly successful Outward Bound program, Challenge uses adventure and wilderness activities for youth and adult leaders to explore their mental, physical and emotional potentials.

Francie Hinkley, state 4-H Extension specialist, said: "Our success with pilot projects in Allegan, Clinton and Marquette counties encourages us to offer Challenge as a statewide program."

"As in all 4-H programs, success depends on volunteer leaders. All the more so, as Challenge seeks to reach a new audience, the urban and rural kids who have never had a chance to be self-reliant in a new situation," Miss Hinkley continued.

Interested leaders, age 16 and older, are invited to participate in a leader training workshop at Kettunen Center in Tustin, Mich. on Dec. 6 and 7. This will be the first in a series of training experiences. Highlights of this workshop will be advanced first-aid and cold-weather camping techniques.

Formation of clubs will be encouraged to begin around the middle of April.

Cooperating in Challenge is the Michigan State University (MSU) Department of Park and Recreation Resources. Paul Risk, who has taught a student survival course at MSU for a number of years and Miss Hinkley, who directed a survival program at Brigham Young University for three years, will be among the statewide resource persons.

Individuals interested in participating as leaders or as program assistants should contact the state 4-H office at MSU (517)-355-0180 or the local county extension office for additional information.

'Homework' projects teach students trades

Students participating in the Building Trades Program at Romulus Senior High School have started the construction of their first residential structure.

The new 3-bedroom ranch-style home with attached garage is under construction at 9650 Ozga Road near Tyler Road, Romulus. Currently 12 students are working sessions of 8 to 11 a.m. and noon to 2:30 p.m.

The high school building trades class, a continuing program of the school district's vocational education program, consists of two phases: Building Trades 1 for juniors and Building Trades 2 for seniors.

During the 1973-74 school year, the building trades class constructed a garage and 1 red barn storage sheds. Some of these sheds have been sold.

So far this year, 14 sheds also are under construction, school officials said.

SCHOOL DISCUSSION—The administrative staff personnel of the Van Buren School District just completed the district's School Luncheon Week at Belleville High School. The District hosted a series of daily luncheons for parents of students in a "get-together" program on school activities and involvement. Shown are two parents, (from left) discussing Faye Davis and Mrs. James Vincent, discussing school matters with Assistant Principal Carlos Florido.

Students continue campaign

Students in the Romulus Community School District, with the help of the Romulus Jaycees, have raised more than $2,800 for use toward funding the Jaycees annual Christmas party for underprivileged children in Romulus.

Officials said total participation in this year's project was 158 students, with 98 students having turned in their money so far.

The 1974 Jaycee Christmas Party is presently in the planning stage, and officials have stated that plans look good with $2,100 more than last year's budget already in the club's coffers.

The additional funds may be used to purchase gifts of winter clothing, a Christmas dinner and even a visit from the "real" Santa Claus, a Jaycee spokesman explained.

"I can honestly say that I have never been more pleased with a project's results than with this one," said Fred Coleman of Romulus High School. "The sincere response and work done by students, parents and companies that either walked or donated money was tremendous.

"Our city government officials who walked--Beverly McAnnally and Theresa Bryant--raised almost $300 themselves for the party," Coleman continued. "The student government set a goal this year of $2,000 and completely destroyed that goal by raising a complete total of nearly $3,200.

"The only thing I can see that would be greater than this is to beat that record next year," Coleman said. "There are going to be quite a few very happy youngsters in Romulus this Christmas, and it's not because of the Jaycees, it's because of the citizens, students and businesses of Romulus."

Coleman noted that any questions concerning the Jaycee Christmas party may be directed to him at Romulus High School.

Firms preparing bids on urban renewal site

The submission of bid proposals for the land purchase and commercial development of the City of Belleville's urban renewal site is under study and review by several firms.

The city's urban renewal site consists of 1.5 acres of land located in the central business district of Belleville. The land site is now clear of its former structures and is to be sold by the city for commercial development.

Urban Renewal Director Henry Graper recently reported to the city council that as many as five firms may be presenting proposals for the purchase and development of the "coveted" land parcel, located on the west side of Main Street between Roys and High Streets.

The first two proposals are expected to be presented to the council at its Nov. 4 session. Graper also stated that three firms are "actively working on site plans.'

The successful bid proposal, when and if approved by the council, will be sent to the Detroit office of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development for its approval.

The city will retain jurisdiction and supervision until the commercial development of the urban renewal site is completed to the satisfaction of city officials.

Belleville '11' gives champs a scare

Tigers to host Dearborn next

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

The enigmatic Belleville football team kept newly-crowned Suburban 8 Conference football champ, Plymouth, guessing Friday night.

The Tigers held the outcome of their game in doubt until the final minute.

Trailing 13-8, Coach Keith Emerson's Tigers had a chance to pull it out in the final minute but gave up the ball to the Rocks on the Plymouth 20-yard line which ended their chance to change the final score.

"For a change we played four quarters and that was the difference," said Emerson afterwards. "If we continue to do that we will win the next two games."

Belleville will host Dearborn Friday night 8 p.m. for its season's league finale.

PLYMOUTH put a couple of touchdowns on the board to take a 13-0 lead. Tim Dillon's quarterback sneak accounted for the Rock's first quarter touchdown which capped a 10 play, 69-yard drive. Doug Tripp kicked the extra point

The hosts added to that total and got what proved to be the winning touchdown in the third quarter when they marched 61 yards in 10 plays after the kickoff and scored on a one-yard plunge by Charlie Johnson.

Early in the fourth quarter Belleville took the initiative. The Tigers recovered a fumble late in the third quarter and put together a 34-yard drive which was culminated by Perry Dingman's one-yard TD lunge.

Quarterback Mark Verrot then combined with Dan Scripter on a pass which gave the Tigers the two-point conversion.

WITH SIX minutes left, the outcome of the game remained in doubt. Belleville managed to pin the Rocks at their own 18-yard line but was charged with a pass interference call which gave the champs a first down.

Plymouth managed to bring the ball to midfield before handing it over via another fumble.

Scripter then ripped off 22 yards, but two unsuccessful passes and running plays left the Tigers 35-yards short of the go-ahead touchdown.

"We had them in the hole after we scored our first TD," related Emerson, "there was a third and five situation on the Rocks' 18-yard line and we were charged with an interference penalty. It was a good call, but it surely killed us, taking an opportunity away from us and equally important it took time off the clock."

SCRIPTER rushed for 51 yards on four tries and Dingman chalked up 50 with 15 carries to lead the Tiger backfield. Verrot completed four of his 15 passes which provided the Tigers with 70 more yards.

Statistically, Belleville had the edge in first downs 12-11 but lost the rushing game 194-131. The Tigers had 70 yards from the air as compared to the Rocks zero.

"It's tough to get beat," said Emerson, "but the hurt is less when your kids give you the type of effort that they did against Plymouth.

Dave Dapsi counted nine primary tackles and four assists from his linebacker's perch while Dennis Easley, a defensive halfback, got credit for seven solos and six assists.

Of Dearborn, Emerson had this to say: "If we play the type of game we did against Plymouth, we will beat Dearborn.

WSJFL has change of heart

By TOM MOORADIAN

What do you do when one group says, "No," while the other says, "Yes"?

A question was raised by a group of parents whose little ones have been playing in the Western Suburban Junior Football League, "why not names?" they asked.

Why not?

That's a pretty big league when one considers that there are four teams from Westland - Jets, Meteors, Rockets and Comets; two from Garden City - Panthers and Tigers; two from Ypsilanti - the Braves and Hurons, plus teams from Northville (Colts), Romulus (Flyers) and Belleville (Cougars) making up the league. So you can't turn your backs to any question they ask.

Consider, if you will, that each of these teams has a freshmen, junior varsity and varsity unit. That's a lot of mamas and papas on the sidelines, isn't it?

Well, the question came up last night about the use of names in stories pertaining to the league. In the past the league categorically refused to allow any member team to use the name of their players.

And you know how much fun it is for a sports writer to write a football story without names. It is about as funny as the old Abbott and Costello "Who's on First" act.

Apparently, the league has changed its philosophy and mellowed in its 14th year of existence. According to Dave Novak, the league president, "It's O.K. to use names, now."

"AT ONE TIME we refused to allow the use of names in connection with our football releases," said Novak who is in his second year of a two-year term as president. "But, we have changed all of that.

"However, we still adhere to the practice of not, let me repeat, not, publishing league standings or playing for any championships.

"We feel that the competition is strictly for the kids who want to learn the fundamentals of football and sportsmenship. Also, these kids are too young to have that sort of pressure put on them."

We're talking about kids who are nine through 10 for freshmen, nine-12 for junior varsity and 11-13 for varsity grid competition.

NOVAK POINTED OUT that the 13-year-olds were enrolled this year on a trial basis and no decision had been made whether the league will allow that age group to play next year.

The players are also classified according to weight. If a player is too heavy, even though he may be qualified because of his age, he usually will have to either lose weight or play in the upper age bracket.

Novak also pointed out that, in his opinion, "the football program was one of the most successful youth programs in the area and, it's all on the volunteer basis."

Then where's the money coming from to suit up the army of young gridders?

Novak said that the organization has a variety of fund-raising activities throughout the year, including candy sales, donations and receipts from concessions set up at the games.

"We have one rule that we ask all members to adhere to," said Novak, as he whipped out his rules' book and read: "Commercialization of the Western Suburban Junior Football League program which would benefit a business will not be permitted. The sole aim of any contributor in time and money should be to assist youth and help their community to become a better place in which to live.

"Members which persist in violation of this rule risk losing their franchises."

Nowhere does it state that you can't use names, folks.

So let's use them.

SPEAKING OF NAMES, Barb Cipriani of the Wayne Youth Hockey Association checked in last night to say that the WYHA has found a couple of men to handle the coaching for the Midget Division.

Dale Hinton, an all-around athlete, and Dave Cunningham, of Westland, who has plenty of coaching experience, said they would be glad to give a helping hand.

"Do you know that the night your column hit the streets, we got the calls from these people. People really read you."

Come on, Barb, don't make me blush.

Parson leads Romulus past Flyers, 39-26

Propelled by Andre Parson's three touchdowns, Romulus destroyed Willow Run 39-26 Friday.

Parson, who had his best day of his career, rushed for 222 yards on 22 carries to lead Coach Tom Baldwin's Eagles to their second victory in seven starts.

"We had a real good night offensively," said Baldwin who is rounding out his first year as Romulus' head coach. "However, when a team scores 26 points on you, you obviously have problems with your defense."

ROMULUS returns home Friday afternoon to greet Oak Park, the Northwest Suburban Conference's cellar-dwellar. Baldwin eyes the game suspiciously because, "when a team is winless, you can expect anything.

"Willow Run changed its whole offense for our ball game, so we can expect some changes from Oak Park."

Scoreless the first quarter, Romulus broke the deadlock when Parson swept around end and raced 96 yards for his first touchdown, leaving in his wake a host of Flyers who didn't even get a hand on him.

Bob Blundell kicked the extra point, giving the Eagles a 7-0 lead.

Willow Run replied immediately after the ensuing kickoff. The Flyers drove 60-yards and scored on John Dunley's three-yard sprint.

Parson came back to get a TD to lift Romulus to a 19-6 half time margin. His second touchdown was set up on a 48-yard pass from Mike Morrison to split end Steve Holliday which left the Eagles' shy five yards of the goal line. Parson polished off the rest of the territory.

Then, on the second play from scrimmage after the ensuing kickoff, Parson came up with a misguided Willow Run pass and ran it back 39-yards in the Flyers' 13.

Morrison took over on the first play.

WILLOW RUN kept the outcome in doubt when the Flyers drove 60-yards after the second half kickoff and scored on a nine-yard run by Dave Mooreman, making it a 19-12 game.

Romulus further jeopardized the victory when it fumbled on the 44-yard line and the Flyers pounced on the ball in Eagle terriroty. Seven plays later, though, the Eagles recovered a Willow Run fumble on the Romulus 28.

Morrison then guided his team 72 yards with Parson breaking loose for the final 32 yards for his third TD of the game.

ROMULUS wasn't out of it yet. The Eagles kicked the Huron falls again

Beware Huron - you may become the first football team in the school's history to ever finish a season without scoring a legitimate touchdown.

And there are eight quarters left to do it in.

The Chiefs, after taking it on the chin 26-0 from Monroe Jefferson, haven't produced a touchdown in seven starts and it's becoming ever more frustrating for Coach Jim Muneio.

"We made mistakes and beat ourselves," said the Huron coach who has Grosse Ile on his mind this Friday. The Islanders (4-2) are presently seated in third place.

"WE HAD five turnovers and you can't win ball games like that," the Chiefs' mentor added. "And our offense chokes up every time we get inside anyone's 20-yard line."

Muneio did have some positive things to say about Al Dudek and Dave Morris.

Morris is a guard while Budek is a linebacker who received credit for eight solo tackles and four assists.

"Our boys are giving it everything they have physically," pointed out Muneio, "but we just can't seem to win."

Belleville runners place 4th in Suburban 8

There were few surprises at the Suburban 8 Conference cross country meet last week as undefeated Edsel Ford captured the 1974 championship.

Edsel garnered 32 points to outdistance runnerup Allen Park, which had 86. Trailing the two leaders were Redford Union (106), Belleville (117), Dearborn (118), Plymouth (120), Trenton (128) and Livonia Bentley (166).

Mike Watson, Edsel's blue-chip runner, also took individual honors as he covered the Elizabeth Park three-mile course in a fast 15:52.

BELLEVILLE'S best was by Randy Block who was named to the all-conference team by virtue of his sixth place finish. He was clocked in 16:19.

The Tigers also were 21st with Mike Yonge (17:03), 25-Harold Gable (17:12), 29-John Szlinis (17:20), 36-Dave Palnau (17:30), 45-Tom Kos (17:56) and 46-Don Buhro (17:57).

"I feel we ran well," said Bruce Romant, who is finishing up his first year as the Tiger mentor. "Four of our runners had their best times and with a few beaks we could have been third.

"Over-all, the league showed it is very competitive, very strong," Romant said.

MEANWHILE, Romulus wrapped up the season with a pair of victories. Coach Al Wilkerson's Eagles defeated Schafer 25-32 and tripped up Woodhaven 17-46.

Against Schafer, Denardo Greene was second as he was clocked in 17:28 while Steve Zimmerman, a freshman, finished third for the Eagles. He was clocked in 17:42.

The Eagles also placed fifth with Wendell Buckley (17:55), Joe Schieda was seventh (18:55) Robert Dixon, eighth (18:18), Don Smith, tenth (18:38) and John Golden, 11th (18:43).

"These kids are young and we have lost some close meets this season," said Wilkerson, "but they're going to be tough next season, believe me."

Wilkerson, who has handled the cross country program for three years, has produced two winning seasons.

"WHEN WE finished against Woodhaven these athletes were talking about next year. That's how enthusiastic they are."

The 17-46 Woodhaven score is the worst any Romulus cross country team has beaten a rival. Buckley and Greene set the pace as they finished in a tie for first. Both were clocked in 17:34.

Zimmerman was third, Joe Schieda finished fifth while Don Smith and John Golden placed sixth and seventh for the Eagles.

Cougars win 'Jock Trophy'

It was more than a football game when Belleville met Romulus in the Western Suburban finale on Sunday.

The annual "Jock Trophy" was at stake and Belleville, by virtue of winning the two out of three games in the series, has the coveted trophy.

The freshmen started things off when Belleville Cougars blanked the Romulus Flyers 14-0 to pad their season record to 6-1-1 on the season.

QUARTERBACK Mel Richendollar passed to John Smolen for the first touchdown and the Cougar quarterback also scored the extra point.

Belleville got an insurance TD when David Bramble scrambled, (sorry about that, David) into the end zone.

The Flyers came back to take the junior varsity game, 19-6, to even up the series and put the pressure on the varsity units.

A 65-yard run by Vincent Carter and Marty Knight's successful extra point attempt staked the Flyers to a 7-0 lead which they never relinquished.

Belleville got on the board on the third quarter when John Verrot scored, however, Romulus came back with a 25-yard TD sprint by Brian Hess to pull away for good, 13-6. Vincent Carter concluded the scoring on a spectacular 45-yard run.

Belleville's defense was just too much for the Flyers who were held scoreless in the varsity game. The Cougars first TD was supplied by quarterback Mark Daroci.

The Cougars got themselves an insurance TD in the third frame when Rick Wineoff scored and his brother, Carl, made good on the conversion.

Romulus did threaten earlier when the Flyers marched to the two-yard line but that drive fizzled when they fumbled the ball over to Paul Arnett.

Parson scores 3 TD's ball out of the end zone and the Flyers started their next series on their own 20-yard line.

The Flyers caught the Eagles asleep on the first play as Mooreman raced up the middle on a dive and didn't stop until he was in the Romulus end zone.

Romulus finally iced it by scoring consecutive touchdowns in the four quarter on passes from quarterback Morrison to tight end Paul Whitescarver which covered 44 and 68 yards, respectively.

"I was extremely pleased with our offense," said Baldwin, "we're going to need this sort of performance to stop Oak Park."

Morrison also had a superb day as he hit on four of seven passes for 185 yards.

Champs awarded trophy

Romulus Ladies Softball League officially concluded its summer softball program with the presentation of the grand championship trophy donated by the Romulus Jaycees.

Present for the ceremony were Romulus Mayor Terry Troutt, Lou Warden of the Romulus Jaycees and Vicky Gray, captain of the championship team of the league.

The trophy will reside in city hall throughout the year with each succeeding championship team having its name engraved on it.

Renton brothers lead Tigers

Sparked by excellent performance of the Renton Brothers, Chris and Howard, the Tiger Swim Club turned in a fine performance at Warren Fitzgerald High School in an AAU "A" swim meet.

Younger brother Chris competed in the 11-12 year old age group, finishing a creditable third in the 100 yard butterfly with a time of 1:12.0. Howard awa part of a 200 free relay team along with Phil Berger, Joe Thomas and Rusty Bearance that finished third in the 13-14 age group with a 1:46.4.

Also turning in good early season jobs were two South Junior ninth graders, Chris Liedel and John Kause.

"It appears that our early season hard work is paying off," said swim club coach John Stosick. "We'll continue to swim "A" meets because this is where our kids will find their toughest competition on the way to the state meet in march."

Saturday's meet was attended by the best swimmers from 35 area swim clubs.

Eagles crush Flyers

Romulus Junior High is one victory away from a perfect season.

The Eagles crushed Edmunson of Willow Run 41-8 for their fourth victory in eighth grade football competition. Today, they'll end the season at home against Ecorse.

The lopsided victory against Edmunson was costly to Coach Bill Thomas' team, though.

"Do you know," asked Thomas rhetorically, "this is the first time a team has scored upon us this year."

RICHARD LEWIS sprinted nine, 14 and five yards for three of the Eagles' touchdowns while Stuart Block recovered a blocked punt and ran it back into the end zone for another TD.

Michael Johnson's three yard TD sprint and Jim Sullivan's one-yard plunge accounted for other Romulus scores. Fred Block had two successful conversions and Richard Lewis also kicked an extra point.

Darryl Lewis recovered a fumble and Lewis picked up two passes for interceptions. Also leading the defense were Block and Johnson who each had six tackles.

"We got off to a slow start against them," said Thomas, who has been the eighth grade coach for eight years, "we started to play ball in the third quarter when we broke it open."

Cross country

Michigan State soph cross country ace Herb Lindsay of Reed City, Mich., set a Spartan home course mark of 24:02.9 for five miles in MSU's 1974 win over Ohio State. The time lowered the course standard he'd set two weeks earlier by 31 seconds.

Belleville wins in overtime

Tigers edge Parkers

It took an extra three-minute overtime period, but Belleville edged Allen Park 27-26 in a girls' basketball game last week.

And the Tigers can thank Nikkie Klonaris for the victory. Scoreless the entire game, Miss Klonaris sank a free throw that stood up as the difference in the game.

"We got some breaks," said Belleville Coach Paddy Lynn, "and we're really fortunate to win this one."

THE SEE-SAWING affair was forced into the overtime when Parker Rose Bucon hit on a pair of free throws with 23 seconds remaining in regulation time.

Though the Tigers got the last shot off, it missed the target.

Sharon Crane's 10 points led the winners while Miss Bucon had 17 for the losers.

Proposed tax fund receives boost

The establishment of a proposed delinquent tax revolving fund by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners for the benefit of various governmental subdivisions of the county has received the unanimous support of Van Buren Township officials.

A resolution requesting the county board of commissioners to establish such a fund was approved at the recent meeting of the Van Buren Township Board of Trustees.

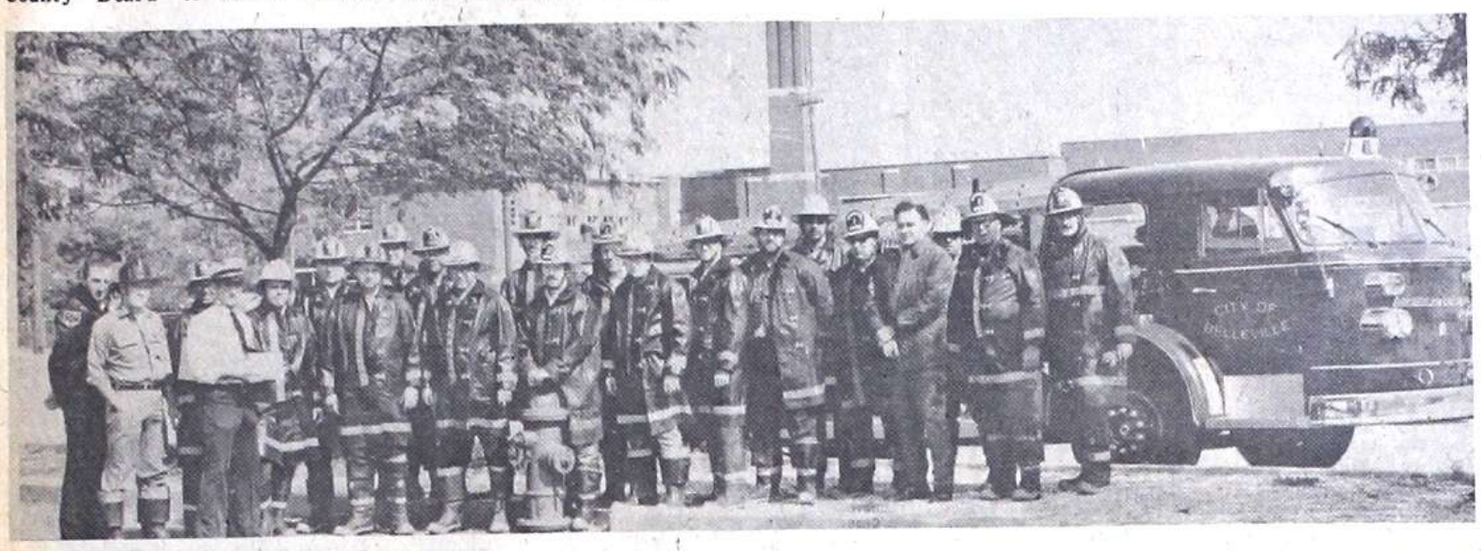

Under the proposed plan the delinquent tax revolving fund would borrow money on tax anticipation notes and pay the delinquent tax totals of school districts, townships and so on in the county in full base on an audit.

The fund would then assess and collect the delinquent tax for the taxpayers.

By March 1 each year, various school districts and other county governments should know their respective delinquent tax totals, according to Van Buren Township Treasurer Ralph Hedman.

Currently delinquent tax bills are referred to the Wayne County Treasurer's office for collection.

A bill has been introduced in the Michigan Legislature (House Bill 5189) that provides an increase of from one-half of one percent to three-quarters of one per cent on delinquent tax bills, Hedman added.

AT TRAINING SESSION—Members of the Belleville and Van Buren Township Fire Departments attended a recent 6-week training session in fire fighting techniques under the sponsorship of the University of Michigan. Class instructions were supervised by Fire Lt. Robert Mathies of the Ypsilanti Fire Department. The scene above shows the firemen ready for a session in front of Belleville High School.

Private campgrounds on the rise

Owners of recreational vehicles living in Western Wayne County will be interested to know that private campgrounds in Michigan have increased during the past year by 7.5 per cent with considerably more due by the end of 1974.

This is shown in a survey, just completed by the Michigan Recreational vehicle and Campground Association, a division of the Michigan Mobile Home and Recreational Vehicle Institute (MMHRVI).

In 1974 there are 600 private campgrounds in Michigan with licensed sites totaling 38,203. This compares with the 1973 figure of 557 campgrounds and 35,604 sites.

However, by the end of 1974 the total should increase considerably. The Michigan Department of Public Health has issued 154 permits for campgrounds with 14,542 new sites.

"The private sector of the campground industry in Michigan is vibrant and growing and serving the camping public well," said Ed Kleim, assistant director of the MMHRVI in charge of the recreational vehicle division.

Copies of the survey booklet are available by mail for $3 from the institute office, 19045 Farmington Rd., Livonia 48152. The booklet lists all private campgrounds by county, with addresses, owners and the number of licensed and proposed sites.

Township plans class in snowmobile safety

All Michigan youngsters 12-16 years old must be certified as "Safe snowmobilers" before they are allowed to operate a snow machine without parental supervision.

For youngsters who plan to operate snowmobiles this winter, the Van Buren Township Parks and Recreation Department is presenting an excellent opportunity to meet the requirements of the state law, according to Jeffery G. Clark, recreation director.

In cooperation with the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR), the recreation department is offering a snowmobile safety class.

"This course is designed by the DNR to provide the necessary instruction to certify youngsters," said Clark, "All successful students will receive certificates allowing them to operate a snowmobile.

The participating students will receive instruction in safety, first-aid, law and mechanics. The course is approximately 10 hours long and will be covered in four days.

Students wishing to be certified must attend all classes at the Van Buren Township Hall, located at 46425 Tyler Rd., on Nov. 18, 20, 22 and 23.

The class time will be from 7 to 9:30 p.m. at each session with the exception of Saturday, when the class will meet from 10 a.m. to noon and again from 1 to 3 p.m.

Guess who's done it again!

"This time at Lake Wood Shopping Center!"

Studded snow tires given legal extension

Motorists in Western Wayne County are reminded by the Michigan State Police that the legal use period for studded tires on motor vehicles begins Dec. 1 this year and extends to April 1, 1975.

This may be the last winter season that studded tires on motor vehicles, as presently legal for use in Michigan, will be approved for such use, police said.

By legislative direction, use of the studded tires remains legal throughout the state for this coming winter season following lengthy consideration of the question of damage such tires do to roads and highways.

For subsequent winters, however, the legislature has authorized the department of state highways to promulgate regulations concerning the questions of special winter tires for motor vehicles and areas of use for such tires.

MUST BE INTERESTING—Raymond Kohr, director of personnel for the Van Buren School District and 11th grader Debbie Morgan, give their undivided attention to various speakers at a recent luncheon for parents of 11th grade students at Belleville High School. The luncheon, hosted by the school's administrative staff, is the first of what may become an annual parent luncheon date.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

NSM

HAROLD REDISKE, HAROLD REDISKE, JR.—DIRECTORS

Confucius says — (and this is an actual quote)..."The men of old, when they wished their virtues to shine throughout the land, first had to govern their states well. To govern their states well, they first had to establish harmony in their families. To establish harmony in their families, they first had to discipline themselves. To discipline themselves, they first had to set their minds in order. To set their minds in order, they first had to make their purpose sincere. To make their purpose sincere, they first had to extend their knowledge to the utmost. Such knowledge is acquired through careful investigation of things. For with things investigated knowledge becomes complete. With knowledge complete the purposes become sincere. With the purpose sincere, the mind is set in order. With the mind set in order there is real self-discipline. With real self-discipline the family achieves harmony. With harmony in the family the state becomes well governed. With the state well governed there is peace throughout the land."

We wonder what Confucius would say...what his philosphy would be...what sort of wisdom he would impart...if he were here today...

Mayor denies rumor

Reports that Belleville's mayor would retain his position in city government if elected to a seat on the Wayne County Board of Commissioners have been emphatically denied by Mayor Royce E. Smith.

Smith, who stated that he has heard the reports circulating in the city said it would be against state statutes for him to retain the mayor's post while serving on the board of commissioners.

He said that if elected he will resign the mayoral post.

Smith won the Democratic nomination for the county position in the August primary. He defeated incumbent Brian G. Arrowsmith of Canton Township. There were no Republican candidates in the primary.

Smith will be opposed in the Nov. 5 general election by American Independent Party (AIP) candidate Dr. E. Forrest Chapman, M.D., of Belleville.

Smith has been mayor of Belleville for the last 10 years. Two years remain in his present term.

Zoning appeals board to consider requests

The Van Buren Township Board of Zoning Appeals will hold a meeting at 8 p.m., Nov. 4 to hear requested appeals, variances and special approvals involving provisions of the township zoning ordinance.

The meeting will be conducted at the township hall, 46425 Tyler Rd. Seven petitions will be considered by the board.

The zoning matters up for approval include:

—Alvin Topper of 18620 W. 10 Mile Rd., Southfield, who has requested approval to erect an advertising sign for the Parkwood Apartments, located at Tyler and Haggerty Road.

—Nickerson Farms of Omaha, Neb. is asking permission to erect an 8 by 12-foot sign that will provide advance notice for a new Nickerson Farms Restaurant slated for the east side of Belleville Road, north of I-94.

—Patricia Kuhr of 7659 Marlowe, Belleville, filed a request for permission to keep a Shetland pony in residential area.

—Lucille Mann of 41761 Van Born Rd., Belleville, is requesting approval to park cars on her property which the county police pull off the highway.

—Gary Clark of 49869 Jefferson Dr., Plymouth, has requested permission for nonconforming use to take over the trailer office of George Rohler, owner of a Mobile Home Park on Belleville Road.

Sumpter has ballots for absentee voters

Absentee ballots for the Nov. 5 general election now are available and may be obtained at the Sumpter Township Clerk's office, 23483 Sumpter Rd.

The clerk's office will be open from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Nov. 2, the deadline for the acceptance of absentee ballots applications.

Board of Education
Van Buren Public Schools
Belleville, Michigan 48111

Gentlemen:
We have examined the financial statements of the several funds of the Van Buren Public Schools, Belleville, Michigan, for the year ended June 30, 1974. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.
No verification was made for teachers' class room enrollment in comparison with school census records.
In our opinion, the accompanying balance sheets and statements of revenues and expenditures and fund balances present fairly the financial position of the General Fund, Debt Retirement Funds, Building and Site Funds, Cafeteria, Activity Funds and Title I Funds, of the Van Buren Public Schools at June 30, 1974, and the results of the transactions of such Funds for the year then ended, in conformity with the generally accepted principles of accounting.

Including charter change

Belleville voters to decide issues

In addition to voicing their selections for national, state, county and judicial offices in the Nov. 5 general election, Belleville voters will vote on a proposed amendment to the Belleville City Charter.

The proposed charter amendment initiated by the present city administration and recommended to the city's electorate for approval at a recently held city council session asks:

"Shall the Charter of the City of Belleville be amended to provide that councilmen shall receive a salary of $800 per year, with the councilman-designated Water and Sewer Commissioner receiving $1,000 per year and to provide a salary for the mayor of $3,000 per year?"

If approved by the voters the increased salaries for the mayor and city councilmen would not become effective until the next election of city officials in 1975.

Belleville voters also will cast ballots on four state propositions.

The state issues are Proposal A, limiting the use of motor fuel tax funds and Proposal B which would authorize the state to provide veterans of Vietnam and other conflicts who served between Jan. 1, 1961 and Sept. 1, 1973 with a service bonus.

Proposal C would remove the sales tax on food and prescription drugs and Proposal D involves authorization of a state-wide transportation systems bond.

The present annual salary for the city's chief executive, a part-time position, is reported to be $1,000. Council members receive $500 and the councilman-designated water and sewer commissioner received $800.

During the August primary election less than 20 per cent of the city's registered voters went to the polls. Election officials are looking for a greater turnout in the November election.

The city's two voting precincts are located in the municipal building. The polls open at 7 a.m. and all in line at the 8 p.m. closing time will be permitted to vote, according to Jean Baumdraher, city clerk.

LUNCHEON GUESTS—A recent series of luncheons sponsored by the Van Buren School District's administrative staff at Belleville High School for parents of high school students attracted a good number of parents. These luncheon guests are too absorbed in the luncheon program to note the photographer. They are (from left) Mrs. Theodore Wisniewski, Mrs. Robert Clark and Mrs. Chester Kosin.

Board okays outdoor rec

An extra-curricular outdoor recreation club at Huron High School has received endorsement from the Huron Board of Education to become "more a direct part of the total educational package."

The 82-member Outdoor Challenge Group, which affords senior high students training and experience in camp cooking, survival skills and other basic skills such as canoeing while on back-packing, canoe and bike hikes, until recently was an activety totally separate from the educational offerings of the school.

The board of education, however, has agreed to absorb all of the group's transportation costs except gasoline to their destinations, will assist in footing equipment costs and will pay the group's faculty director the same additional salary as the head football coach.

"Basically, this will mean the group will have guaranteed transportation to its trips," said Philip Dalley, district administrative assistant. "The club will become more of a direct part of the total educational package here."

Dallex said the club participates in its outdoor recreational activities on weekends and plans to continue.

Rod McGee, a biology teacher at the senior high, is the group's director.

Lifesaving techniques will be class subject

The Romulus Community Schools Adult Education Program has scheduled a class in cardio pulmonary resuscitation for adults.

The class is a 2-hour lecture, demonstration and participation session where each participant will have an opportunity to practice the techniques on a mannequin.

This is an opportunity for an adult to learn the skills of lifesaving techniques; he or she may have the opportunity to save someone's life. It is used in many cases of heart failure and drowning, according to Earl Lamb of the Romulus Community School District's Adult Education Program.

EASY READING
In order to help police helicopter pilots direct cruisers to a particular spot, street names and numbers are painted on the roofs of many buildings in Dallas. Looking for an outstanding address? WOMEN DRIVERS
Traffic problems in ancient Rome, led the city fathers to pass a law in 205 B.C. that prohibited women from driving chariots within the "commercial zone" of the city. Things have changed and many women today buy their own cars. If you are in the market for a car check the reliable dealers advertising safety checked, winterized cars in today's Associated Newspaper's Classified Ads.

FREE READING
Since 10 percent of the books in a public library manage to walk out without going through the charge desk, Remington Rand has come up with a system that will set off an alarm if the book hasn't been properly charged out. Looking for good inexpensive reading material? It's right here in the Associated Newspapers Classified Ads. Reading Want Ads can be entertaining, find you things you've always wanted, and save you money too. So check there now!

WIND-UP CAR
Newest "clean engine" experimental car is a wind-up concept. It uses a giant flywheel that drives a generator that drives a motor that drives the car. The flywheel is brought to speed by a small electric motor and theoretically, will continue to unwind for 110 miles of ordinary driving. And to unwind all through your ordinary driving routine - car pooling, supermarket shopping, Christmas tree hauling, check the Associated Newspaper's Classified Ads for a handy, roomy, easy driving station wagon today!

THERE ARE SUCH THINGS...

Some items never lose their value nor their appeal. For example, the trumpet your youngster never really enjoyed playing will gladden the heart of a more musically inclined child. And the camera you've since replaced with a more sophisticated model could be the start of some other family's treasured photo album. There are dozens of such items . . . many of which you may now be storing in your home . . . that other families would love to own. Make it happen! Advertise those items for sale with a low-cost Classified Ad. You'll enjoy the extra cash resulting from the sale and your buyer will enjoy being able to purchase these things at less than today's high prices for a brand new item. Think about the good things you could exchange for cash . . . then give us a call. We'll help you word your ad for quick results.
